President Kallio's appeal to end this "Barbaric, senseless attack" was qualified by the assertion Finland would not cringe before "imperialistic aims."

Rumania Threatens New Complications In Balkans Dispute

By HENRY T. GORRELL
British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Feb. 2—Rumania was reported today to have threatened new complications at the Balkan Entente meeting by indicating that Bucharest might seek some agreement with Germany and possibly Soviet Russia unless she obtains guarantees of her frontier with Hungary.

Considerable official secrecy surrounded developments at the first session of the Balkan Entente — Rumania, Jugoslavia, Turkey and Greece — but there were persistent hints that the attitude of Rumania was creating concern among the representatives of the other southeastern states.

According to unofficial sources, the Rumanian foreign minister Grigore Gafencu, indicated in preliminary discussions that unless the Entente states acted to make Rumanian frontiers with Hungary and with Bulgaria as well, Rumania intends to obtain these guarantees from Germany in return for full economic co-operation with the Reich.

In addition, it was reported, Gafencu indicated that Rumania might seek some sort of n understanding with Moscow, acting through Berlin.

This, it was suggested, might be some form of non-aggression treaty under which the Soviet claims on Rumania's Bessarabian territory (formerly Russian) would at least be temporarily shelved, Rumania's frontiers now include territory that belonged to Russia, Hungary and Bulgaria before the World War.

ITALY SUSPENDS HER PURCHASES RUMANIAN OIL

British United Press

ROME, Feb. 2—Well informed sources reported today that Italy had suspended purchases of Rumanian oil because German and Allied bidding had caused prices to skyrocket.

British circles in Rome asserted that German diplomatic envoys to Balkan countries, after their recent conference at Berlin, had returned to their posts with instructions to try urgently to put the entire economic resources of the Balkans at Germany's disposal.

These British circles asserted that Germany wanted all oil, grain and mineral industries in the Balkans included in Germany's economic erbit.

CALGARY, Feb. 2—The Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board last night announced the second big increase in Turner Valley crude production within 10 days, bringing daily allowable to 21,000 barrels.

On the new basis the monthly production will total more than 500,000 barrels compared with 340,107 barrels in February a year ago.

PATTULLO IS SOLID BEHIND PREMIER KING

Pre-Eminently In Interests Of Canada That Government Be Returned

MONTREAL, Feb. 2.—Premier Pattullo of British Columbia talked today of elections, roses in Victoria, oil in the Peace river block, and thought the time right for all of them.

Of other topics on which he was interviewed, the British Columbia-Alaska highway requires some more survey work before a route is chosen, and an application is being made to the transport commission to fix a fair rate for rail shipment of lumber from the Pacific to the Atlantic seaboard.

On the latter subject the premier said the British timber commission has offered to pay a rate which is not acceptable to the railways. In the meantime, he added, timber needed in the United Kingdom is piling up in British Columbia yards until there isn't much more room for it.

In regard to the coming federal election, the British Columbia premier said he is solidly behind the government of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and believes "it is pre-eminently in the interests of the country that the government be returned." If a new government were elected, he said, valuable time would be lost while ministers were familiarizing

WITH THE ARMY AT THE FINNISH FRONT, Feb. 2—The Red army has renewed a powerful frontal attack on the center of the Mannerheim Line today, with support of artillery and massed bombing planes. The Russian attack was carried out in great force and again involved the use of the so-called "Trojan horses"—really armored sledges pushed ahead of the Russian tanks. The Finns broke up the attacks by the use of hand grenades.

Armored Sledges Are Supported By Planes

By WADE WERNER

WITH THE FINNISH ARMIES ON THE MANNERHEIM LINE, Feb. 2.—The Red army of the Karelian isthmus, using swarms of armored sledges propelled by tanks and supported by 130 fighting and bombing planes, smashed suddenly last night against the Mannerheim line.

The assault, concentrated mainly in the vicinity of Summa, 20 miles south of the city of Viborg (Viipuri) was preceded by six hours of artillery preparation.

Then the infantry attack, with the sledges and tanks as its spearhead, began. It was an entirely new technique for the Russians. Instead of letting their tanks be forward by themselves, the Soviet command equipped each one with

Finland's Air Plea Now Urgent

By HUBERT UEXKUELL
British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

HAPARANDA, Sweden, on the Finnish Frontier, Feb. 2.—Finland's appeal for foreign airplanes became urgent today after a bombing raid yesterday by 43 fast two-motored Russian planes on Rovaniemi, general headquarters for the Finnish northeastern and northern armies.

The people of Rovaniemi expressed belief that Russia intended to destroy the city by systematic raids and because Rovaniemi communications were disrupted, they were urging that only the immediate receipt of planes from nations friendly to Finland could stop the raids.

Two Russian planes were shot down during yesterday's raid. In three formations of nine each and two of eight each, the planes went over Rovaniemi early yesterday morning. They flew at about 10,000 feet.

The planes dropped 200 bombs, of all types, on the city yesterday after having dropped 120 bombs Wednesday.

Telephonic and telegraphic communication failed as soon as the bombs started crashing into the city.

Hours later, with communications still out, I managed to get an automobile to bring me the 75 miles to Haparanda, to telephone to the British United Press Scandinavian headquarters at Copenhagen.

HAUGESUND, Norway, Feb. 2— The sinking of the 1,500-ton Norwegian steamship Varildi with the loss of her crew of 13 was announced here today. Cause of the sinking, which occurred in the North Sea, was not known.

Although Great Britain has been the heaviest loser numerically in the war at sea, she has lost but three per cent. of her combined total naval and merchant tonnage. Germany has lost an equal percentage of her smaller combined totals through the scuttling of the Admiral Graf Spee and commerce vessels and the reported sinkings of 35 submarines by the Allies.

Borah's Widow Finds $207,000 Cached In Dead Solon's Vault

By H. C. LYON
United Press. Exclusive Dispatch to The Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—For many years Mrs. William E. Borah maintained a joint checking account and a safety deposit box in a Washington bank with her husband, the late senator from Idaho.

She had a key to the lock box, but never went near it. When the senator died earlier this month Mrs. Borah was not certain whether she could even afford the immediate costs of the funeral trip to Idaho.

She did not expect to be able to continue living in their seven room apartment, their only big luxury. Then in arranging her affairs, Mrs. Borah sent a secretary to the bank to check the contents of the deposit box.

The box, it was learned today, contained $207,000 in $1,000 bills and government bonds.

"It was just as much a surprise to me as anyone else," Mrs. Borah said. "I had always believed that the Senator would leave me provided for after his death and I knew that he had policies in three companies. But we never talked much

The demand, which had been anticipated, was made in a note which Masatuki Tani, vice foreign minister, handed to Sir Robert Craigie, British ambassador last night. This note replied to a British note which had in turn replied to a Japanese protested against the seizures.

It was agreed to publish both notes simultaneously in Tokyo and at London as soon as the British government had had time to study the latest Japanese one.

HELSINKI, Feb. 2.—Sir Walter Citrine, head of a British labor delegation touring Finland, declared today that the Finns "will need plenty of help" to hold off the Russian invasion.

WAR IS SAID SINGLE ISSUE OF ELECTION

Herridge Gives Statement On Coming Campaign In Dominion

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—Declaring the only issue in the forthcoming election was the measure of Canada's contribution to the war, Hon. W. D. Herridge, head of the New Democracy movement and former Canadian minister to Washington, in a statement last night said "those who believe in the justice of our cause must believe in maximum contribution and must unite to defeat the Liberal government."

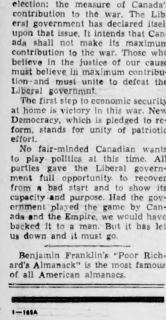

The first step to economic security at home is victory in this war, New Democracy, which is pledged to reform, stands for unity of patriotic effort.

No fair-minded Canadian wants to play politics at this time. All parties gave the Liberal government full opportunity to recover from a bad start and to show its capacity and purpose. Had the government played the game by Canada and the Empire, we would have backed it to a man. But it has let us down and it must go.

B.C. DISCOVERED BY CHINESE OLD ARCHIVES SHOW

VICTORIA, Feb. 2. — British Columbia was discovered by the Chinese, who wrote extensively about the geography of the country and the nature of its inhabitants 1,000 years before Christopher Columbus sailed the Atlantic, according to B. A. McKelvie of the B. C. Historical Association.

In support of his belief, McKelvie quotes from translations discovered in Chinese archives by Jesuit priests 150 years ago. They indicate that Chinese voyagers visited the American Pacific coast between 458 and 498.

Ancient Chinese records reveal that Alaska was named Wan Shan. British Columbia littoral was Ta Han, meaning Great China, and Mexico was known as Fusang.

an armored sledge which carried both machine-gunners and rifle-men.

The tanks pushed the sledges into battle. Then men on the sledges protected the tanks against Finnish hand grenade throwers and other anti-tank methods.

Despite the new strategy and the heavy aerial strength, the Russians gained no ground, Finnish officers said. The fighting was continuing.

While the main attack was all Summa, the Russians sought to concentrate troops for attacks at other points.

Finnish artillery, however, scored direct hits on columns of field batteries, tanks, armored cars and infantry units before they could be brought into position.

The Finnish officers also said their guns silenced 15 Soviet batteries.

Two Soviet observation balloons and one Russian plane were shot down.

Parachute Patrols Captured Or Killed

By RALPH FORTE
British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

HELSINKI, Feb. 2.—An official communique issued in the Finnish capital today reported that during heavy fighting on the Karelian Isthmus yesterday the Finnish forces repulsed a major Russian attack in which the Red army dropped many parachute patrols. These, the Finns said, were either captured or killed.

Northeast of Lake Ladoga the communique said that five to eight Russian planes were shot down and land attacks driven back in that sector.

Meanwhile today the Russians renewed their air attacks on south Finland, raiding at least 20 localities.

No bombs were dropped in the center of Helsinki, where there were two air raid alarms, but there were explosions on the outskirts, where a workman's home was destroyed.

The Russian tactics in their attack on the centre of the Mannerheim Line forced the Finns quickly to adapt new methods for turning back the armored sledge units which were pushed across the snow by tanks until they were close to the defense positions.

Where the sledges were near the Finnish positions, the Russian troops inside leaped out carrying light machine guns and scattered into the woods. The Finns quickly found they could break up these attacks most readily by use of hand grenades which were capable of blasting the sledge armor.

The massed operations of Russian planes gave the sky the appearance of a football gridiron at times as the white exhaust smoke from the aircraft criss-crossed above the front lines. Often the appearance of the planes were miles long and lingered in the sky.

During our automobile trip we saw some evidence of the bombardment of towns behind the lines. In some towns, the main buildings had been blown to bits and debris all littered the streets which were crowded by Finns in white parkas.

The roads over which we travelled were often covered with fresh dirt thrown up by bomb explosions. Some bomb craters were far from human habitation and it was difficult to guess why they had been dropped.

The Russian attempts to interrupt road traffic by bombardment was combatted by Finnish crews who were almost always able to make necessary repairs within an hour.

HEAVY TARIFF ON PORK FROM U.S. IS ASKED

Government Declines To Grant Request For Higher Protection

By GRANT DEXTER
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 2—Representations have been made to the government which if acted upon would place 1½ cents per pound tariff against most of the pork imported from the United States. The representations come from farm organizations, chiefly in Ontario.

The government has declined to grant these requests for higher protection and falling unexpected price fluctuations either in the hog markets in Canada or the United States, will continue to maintain the existing conditions.

The tariff on United States pork under the United States-Canadian treaty is 1¼ cents per pound, but under the draw back provisions of the Customs Act exporters may claim a full drawback on imports. They do not have to export the pork which is imported. All that is necessary is to export the equivalent quantity of pork.

MORE THAN SUFFICIENT

Actually the exports of bacon have been more than sufficient to absorb the imports from the United States to claim the full draw back on all pork shipped into Canada in recent months. Exporters under the law have a year in which to claim the draw back and although few draw back claims have been filed since the end of the war there is no reason to believe that these claims will not be made.

If so, it is learned officially this morning that the national revenue department will accept them and deal with them in the usual way.

The effect of the cancellation of the draw back provisions on pork would mean that the full tariff of 1¼ cents per pound would have to be paid.

Surge Of Confidence Evident In Rumania

By F. E. STEVENS
British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 2—A surge of confidence was evident in Rumania today and there seemed to be a belief that even if the Little Entente split up at its Belgrade meeting Rumania would be able to guard its own positions.

It was intimated that the success of the conference might depend on Rumania and Jugoslavia. Diplomatic quarters suggested that Italian influence had eased German pressure on Jugoslavia and that British influence had offset German pressure on Rumania.

King Carol was understood to be in personal direction of foreign affairs during this delicate period. It was said that he personally sent Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu on a recent visit to Belgrade and then arranged his own visit to Prince Paul, the chief regent of Jugoslavia, at a shooting lodge near the frontier.

Nazis Say Balkans Have Nothing To Fear

BERLIN, Feb. 2. — German spokesmen, intently watching the Balkan entente conference in Belgrade, made energetic efforts today to convince the Balkan states that they have nothing to fear from the Reich.

Official quarters echoed Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop's statement yesterday that neither Germany nor Russia plans military action in southeastern Europe.

In this connection it was insisted that Great Britain and France want to spread the war to the Balkans with the object of creating an eastern front.

Britain Planning Cut Exports To Rumania

LONDON, Feb. 2—Great Britain was reliably reported today to be planning to cut off gasoline sales to Rumania as a weapon in her struggle with Germany for Rumanian oil.

Britain, it was said, is planning to permit export of goods Rumania needs only to the extent that Rumania sends oil to Britain.

At the same time it was reported that British officials were more optimistic about early clarification and settlement of the uncertain Rumanian economic policy.

Economic discussions at the Balkan conference meeting in Belgrade today were expected to have a bearing on Rumania's attitude toward shutting her supplies with belligerent nations.

BORAH WIDOW FINDS $207,000 CACHED AWAY

about his finances. I never believed that he would pass away before I did, as his people were all long-lived."

Borah usually was regarded in Washington as a "poor" man, whose income was limited to his salary as senator, $7,500 a year up to 1929; $10,000 after that. He lived modestly, entertaining only at close friends, the apartment for which he paid $175 a month in rent.

However, when Borah came to the U. S. Senate 33 years ago he was a moderately wealthy man, judged by 1907 standards. When he was defeated for the Senate in 1902 he was making $20,000 a year as a lawyer, according to reliable information. These sources said that Borah had a personal fortune of $100,000 when he came to Washington.

After he became senator, Borah refrained from accepting any legal business, although attractive, legitimate offers were made to him. He did invest rather heavily in life insurance policies, it was said, and cashed them upon their maturity.

The safety deposit box contained the fruit of these savings and investments, with a simply worded will bequeathing the entire fortune to Mrs. Borah.

themselves with their departments. "It would take them two years to find their feet."

In the sudden dissolution, he thought the Prime Minister had adopted the only course he could under the circumstances. "If the session had continued it would have developed into a fight and Mr. King would have been charged even more strongly with shutting off discussion if he ordered dissolution."

TWINKLE OF EYE

Of the charges against the federal government by Premier Hepburn of Ontario, he had only a twinkle of his eye and "Oh, Mitch is a fine chap" to offer.

Premier Pattullo is very hopeful that oil will be struck in British Columbia's Peace River block where the government will start drilling this summer at Commotion Creek. He said the government's geologists had stated that the district was "theoretically better than the Turner Valley in Alberta."

The Premier said British Columbia was not at cross-purposes with Alberta in regard to a route for the British Columbia-Alaska highway. The road would, he said, be built through British Columbia but there was no objection to Alberta connecting up to it or even, if they wished, striking out on their own through a North West Territories route.

Recently Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta minister of public works, was quoted in Calgary as saying the highway would be built through Alberta and that while British Columbia was talking about it Alberta had gone ahead last summer and completed a 350-mile leg of the road from Grimshaw in the Peace River district, to Great Slave Lake.

Mr. Pattullo said this was short of the contribution of British Columbia which already had 800 miles of highway north from Vancouver, but he reiterated he was not at cross purposes with the sister province.

NO DECISION YET

The premier said decision has not yet been made on the route the highway will follow through this province and that further survey work will be done this year.

Mr. Pattullo said there will be no announcement on the proposal that the Yukon territory be added by British Columbia, until after the commission on dominion-provincial relations reports.

JAN SIBELIUS PROTECTED AS REAL TREASURE

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—Jan Sibelius, Finland's great composer, is being protected "like a national treasure," Tauno Hannikainen, Finnish orchestral conductor, here to be a guest leader of the Boston symphony orchestra, said last night. "The government has hidden him well in a secret place as a precautionary step to preserve Finland's great genius."

Pope Presides

Sea Tragedy

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 2.—A lifeboat containing the bodies of two sailors was washed ashore today but there were few clues as to the identity of the ship they apparently had abandoned.

BIG POLITICAL GUNS TO OPEN FIRE SHORTLY

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—Whirlwind election campaigns will be launched by all major parties within a fortnight and the big political guns will fire up and down the country for six weeks with the Liberal administration's war record and opposition's chief target as well as the government's man defence.

At national headquarters here, the Liberal, Conservative and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation parties are completing plans for their appeals to the electorate in the March 26 general election. Hon. T. A. Crerar, mines and resources minister, flew to Winnipeg overnight and probably will start the government campaign in the west.

FIRST RADIO SPEECH

Prime Minister Mackenzie King is expected to make his first radio speech soon and Conservative leader Manion will begin his coast-to-coast tour probably in about 10 days.

The Social Credit Party also is laying elaborate plans for a rapid campaign and Hon. W. D. Herridge, leader of the New Democracy movement which is associated with Social Credit in the Federal arena, said last night he would announce his election plans shortly.

Political opinion on Parliament Hill generally contends the main election issue will be the conduct of the war effort by the Liberal government. A feature question of Hustings debate also will be the sudden dissolution of parliament after a four-hours session.

Altmark Said To Be Home With 300 British Captives

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 2—German sources said yesterday that they had learned the German escort ship Altmark, which accompanied the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, had reached Germany with 300 imprisoned British seamen.

The Altmark reached the German port of Bremerhaven, Jan. 25, these sources said.

The British seamen were crew members of ships sunk by the Admiral Graf Spee before she was driven into Montevideo harbor Dec. 13 in a running battle with three British cruisers.

JAN. 20 COLDEST DAY IN LONDON IN 59 YEARS

LONDON, Feb. 2—Now it can be told:

Today the censor made it permissible to disclose that Saturday, Jan. 20, was the coldest day in London in 59 years.

Temperature dipped to 12 degrees above zero Fahrenheit. It was the coldest day since 1881, when the temperature dropped to nine above.

Censorship is imposed on weather news to prevent the enemy obtaining information which might be useful.

SIR HERBERT MARLER RITES HELD FRIDAY

MONTREAL, Feb. 2.—Officials of the diplomatic service and Canadian political leaders gathered today with many friends of Sir Herbert Marler at the funeral services in Christ church cathedral here for the former diplomat. Interment following in Mount Royal cemetery.

Sir Herbert, who spent almost 10 years in the diplomatic service during a life devoted largely to public activities, died in hospital Wednesday in his 64th year. He had been elected to retirement last September by illness.

Representatives of the Japanese and United States legations in Ottawa were among those attending the last rites. Sir Herbert was Canadian minister to Japan before going to Washington in 1936 as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary for Canada.

Bishop Arthur Carlisle of Montreal officiated at the simple service. He was assisted by Dean J. H. Dixon, rector of the church, and Rev. W. J. Nicholson of St. Clement's church, Toronto.

House Of Commons Backs Chamberlain

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The House of Commons last night backed Prime Minister Chamberlain in his decision not to put an economic "dictator" in war cabinet.

It overruled by a vote of 185 to 90 a labor suggestion that he appoint a cabinet minister with wide-head powers over the economic side of the national war effort.

NOTED CLERIC COLLAPSES AT CONSECRATION

Woman Falls Over Dead As Excitement Stirs Basilica

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—The consecration of Most Rev. Alexander Vachon as Coadjutor Archbishop of Ottawa ended on a tragic note today as the aged Archbishop Guillaume Forbes collapsed on completion of his duties as consecrator.

A stir of excitement spread through the crowded basilica as the Archbishop, in his robes of office, was carried from the sanctuary and Mgr. Alme. Labreche, 85, fell over and died.

Archbishop Vachon comes from the post of rector of Laval University in Montreal to assist Archbishop Forbes and to succeed him. For some time Archbishop Forbes has suffered from a serious illness and until the time of his death it was doubtful if he could stand the strain of officiating at the consecration.

INSISTED ON OFFICIATING

When it appeared he had recovered sufficiently he insisted on officiating personally at the long and elaborate ceremony as his successor was a personal friend of many years' standing.

The collapse occurred just as the choir of the choir and congregation were raised in the majestic Catholic hymn of praise and thanksgiving, the "Te Deum," and the moment when the new Archbishop took his seat on the episcopal throne.

Britain's Superiority On Seas Will Prevent Major Naval Battles

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 2—Great Britain's superiority in naval strength will prevent major sea battles in this war according to British naval experts, who expect however an increasing number of engagements between German commerce raiders and Allied destroyers and airplanes.

Britain's naval advantage makes it virtually impossible for the Germans to engage her in a major naval battle, in the opinion of British naval circles.

DETECTOR IS USED

As the Germans do not have sufficient striking power to engage the British fleet, it is expected they will continue to concentrate on destroying merchantmen carrying supplies to England.

In fighting the U-boat, the British have been using a detector which reveals the U-boat's presence. The convoy system also has proved to be highly effective in guarding warships and merchantmen, officials assert.

The British have 11 battleships and three battle cruisers commissioned. All of the battleships have 15-inch guns except the Nelson and Rodney, which have 16-inch guns. Under construction are four 16-inch guns, and fie 14-inch gun battleships.

Britain entered the war with six aircraft carriers. Six others under construction will be finished this year. She had 15 heavy, and 43 light cruisers commissioned. Nineteen destroyers were under construction and 179 were commissioned.

Being built were 25 submarines, compared to 57 commissioned.

ACKNOWLEDGED LOSSES

Since the war began, the British have acknowledged losses of one battleship, one aircraft carrier, five destroyers and four submarines.

At present, the Germans have two 26,000 ton battleships—Gneisenau and Scharnhorst. Each is armed with 11-inch guns, and have a speed of 26 knots. In 1939 the Germans launched the battleships Bismarck and Tirpitz, 35,000 tons each, and armed with 15-inch guns. The Bismarck and Tirpitz would be a match ship-for-ship for British battleships. Their two remaining pocket-battleships are the Deutschland and Admiral Scheer.

The Germans entered the war with two heavy and six light cruisers; 22 destroyers and 65 submarines commissioned. It is believed one aircraft carrier, several cruisers and 28 submarines are under construction.

In Shoes Of Nelson

SIR DUDLEY POUND

A new portrait of Sir Dudley Pound, admiral of the fleet and chief of the naval staff at the British admiralty. A hard-bitten sailor who learned his trade the hard way, Admiral Pound is, in the opinion of many Britishers, the ideal man for the job once held by Britain's greatest sea hero, Lord Horatio Nelson.

2 OF FAMILY ARE VICTIMS AXE SLAYER

Widow and Daughter Are Murdered In Home At Montreal

MONTREAL, Feb. 2.—A 56-year-old widow and her daughter, their heads battered in apparently by an axe, were found slain last night in the basement of their suburban Pointe St. Charles home.

The victims, Mrs. Mary Fahey and her 26-year-old daughter, Loretta, were found at the foot of the cellar stairs by another daughter, Winnifred, when she returned home from work. Police believe the women were attacked during the afternoon and that their bodies then were thrown down the stairs.

There was no indication as to where the attack took place but an axe was found in the kitchen of the two-storey self-contained home. Detectives said the room appeared to have been cleaned shortly before the bodies were discovered.

Police said they were looking for James Fahey who had not come home.

"We want to ask him a few questions," Deputy Police Director Armand Brodeur said.

From the appearance of the wounds received by the victims, the blows were dealt by "an enraged" person, detectives said. There were two gaping holes in the back of the daughter's head, while the mother's skull practically was split in two.

Police believe robbery was the motive. The pay cheque, which Loretta received each Thursday for a part-time office job, was missing and there was no money in the elder woman's purse.

NEW ECONOMIC ADVISORY BODY IS ESTABLISHED

OTTAWA, Feb. 2—Creation of an economic advisory committee of senior civil servants was revealed by the tabling of orders-in-council relating to Canada's participation in the war at last week's brief session of parliament.

The committee's duty will be to investigate, report and advise on questions of economic or financial policy or organization arising out of the war.

Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy minister of finance, is chairman.

Provision is made for a representative of a department of munitions and supply, should one be set up.

Prospectors To Be Encouraged By Ontario Bill

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Encouragement to mining prospectors is the purpose behind a bill brought into the Ontario legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Gordon Conant to amend the Securities Act.

The measure provides that upon the filing of a prospecting syndicate agreement with the provincial secretary or a mining recorder, the liability of the syndicate members or parties to the agreement shall be limited to the terms of the agreement, provided sole purposes of the syndicate or agreement is to finance prospecting or preliminary developments. Capital of such a syndicate is not to exceed $10,000.

Hull said that the ambassador to Britain, Joseph P. Kennedy, planned to return to London some time this month.

Limited Leaves Will Be Granted British Soldiers

LONDON, Feb. 2—A limited number of leaves for members of the British expeditionary force in France have been restored, it was announced last night.

For the time being only those men bound for regions served by the Southern Railway and the Great Western Railway, excluding Wales, will be permitted to come home.

General leaves for men of the B.E.F. will be granted as soon as service on the Northern and Midland lines, disrupted by bad weather, returns to normal.

Danish Defence Minister Asks Increased Grants

British United Press

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Feb. 2.—The Danish defence minister announced Thursday that the parliament in Copenhagen will be asked to appropriate $12,564,500 in supplementary grants to increase defense equipment.

The minister said he would request the money be spent to build two mine layers, two torpedo boats, one submarine, a number of airplanes, anti-aircraft guns and supplementary equipment.

New Seven-Year Arms Program Is Urged In Tokyo

TOKYO, Feb. 2.—Japan's army and navy Thursday asked parliament to approve a new 7-year armaments program costing about $671,000,000, after the war minister had declared the army "is not relaxing its watch" along Soviet Russia's borders.

The appropriation asked today for the replenishment and rehabilitation of arms, would be in addition to a total of $1,862,017,680 which already has been approved for this purpose.

Vancouver Island Exits Are Blocked As Robbers Sought

VICTORIA, Feb. 2. — Avenues of departure from Vancouver Island were guarded last night as police sought three armed men who escaped with between $2,000 and $3,000 in a daring noon-hour holdup of the Victoria west branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Police arrived at the scene 10 minutes after the bandits had fled with the contents of cash drawers in the teller's cage, looted while three bank employees were kept prisoner in the vault.

Avalanche Kills Italian Soldiers

ROME, Feb. 2. — At least four Italian soldiers were killed when an avalanche swept down upon a military detachment of about 80 men near Bredoni in the Tyrolean Alps yesterday. Rescue squads were still digging for other bodies last night.

The Bible now is being published in 728 different languages and dialects.

Polish Women Forced To Work on Nazi Farms By German Soldiery

ROME, Feb. 2.—The Polish envoys to the Vatican and to Italy added a new chapter of alleged persecution of Poles by Germans yesterday, charging the Nazis with kidnapping Polish women for forced labor on farms in the Reich.

In a second pamphlet, amplifying a first which alleged persecutions of priests and Catholics, the Polish government charged 15,000 Polish leaders had been executed in German-annexed Poland in a mass "extermination aimed at the entire population" and that 500,000 had been deported.

RAIDS ON STREETS

Detailing many stories of alleged cruelty and starvation the pamphlet said "the most frequent practice is to kidnap Poles and send them to forced labor on farms in Germany. For this purpose raids on the streets are organized, and all who cannot show working permits are arrested.

"Sometimes the trucks stop in front of the queues outside stores, composed mostly of women. Those in the line are forced to get into the trucks and are taken to work in the fields.

Hostages taken by the Germans, it was claimed, were in continual danger of execution on the least excuse, such as the tearing down of a Nazi flag by some person unknown to the hostages.

The document said one man was imprisoned for five years at Poznan because he owned a movie theatre where a film, "Confessions of a Nazi Spy" was shown last June before the German occupation.

TREATED AS INFERIORS

The Germans were reported to be treating the Poles as an inferior people, making them take off their hats to German officials in the street, to wait in the stores until Germans have been served, and to stay off sidewalks reserved for Germans.

Concerning alleged execution of 15,000 Polish leaders, and citing other acts of terror, the document said:

"These executions are continuing now throughout the territory of western Poland and have the character of an extermination particularly brutal, aiming at the entire population."

The pamphlet cited numerous other executions, declaring the Germans shot women and children without giving the reason.

It told that a doctor and his wife were "tortured" at Karwin, in Silesia, Sept. 8 and that both died a few days later.

EXECUTE 5,000

The pamphlet said 5,000 executions each occurred in Poznan, Pomerania and in the region around Czestochowa in Silesia.

Concentration camps are "damp, dirty and crowded," holding 3,000 men and women in Gdynia, 3,000 at Torun, 3,000 at Poznan and a smaller number at Dobrzyor.

A Vatican source said last night the Vatican radio station, which made two broadcasts recently on conditions among the Poles, under German rule, does not plan further such broadcasts. The broadcasts were described as private in character.

This source emphasized also that the Vatican has "nothing to do" with circulation of pamphlets by the Polish embassies but nevertheless keeps account of all such information coming from any source.

The Neutrals Give the Answer

What neutral country considers itself to be imperilled because Britain and France are the heads of powerful empires? What neutral country situated within striking distance of Germany is not living in fear for its life, its army mobilized, its government facing the choice of taking orders from Hitler or of risking destruction for not doing so?

These questions answer themselves. In answering themselves they also answer the stock allegation of the Fuehrer that the Allied powers are themselves the aggressors and their governments responsible for provoking the war. There cannot be aggressors unless there are victims or intended victims. What neutral country, small or large, near or remote, has claimed that its sovereignty or its rights are or were endangered by British or French policy? Herr Hitler cannot name one.

The silence of the neutrals speaks louder than the shrieking from the Sportspalatz. They know they have dwelt securely so far as Britain and France were concerned, and will be safe again when the Nazi menace has been dispelled.

Just In Case

At Washington, the naval affairs committee cut the proposed naval expansion program in half. The committee agreed to an expenditure of $655,000,000, to be spent in construction over a two-year period. The naval authorities asked for $1,300,000,000, to cover construction during six years.

While the outlay is to be only half that asked for, the time for carrying out the curtailed program is cut to a third. This, it is said, will keep all the naval and private ship-yards going to capacity, which means that at the end of two years the new ships will be as many as there would have been under the larger scheme. And at the end of the two years the rest of the original schedule can be put in hand if conditions require.

In urging their plans for expansion the navy representatives said consideration should be given to the situation that would arise should the Allies be defeated by Germany. They said nothing about any need to worry as to the situation should the Allies win. Berlin will see the point, and will not like the inference.

The United States is officially neutral. But it is not officially blind as to what a Hitler victory would mean for it—and every country which wants to govern itself. That is—primarily—why it is building more warships.

Prince George Route Preferred

Chairman Magnuson says the United States commission on the Alaska highway scheme has recommended to the Canadian commission that the highway be built by way of Prince George, instead of following the proposed route nearer the coast; and that this recommendation will be submitted to the Governments of the Dominion and British Columbia

This is good news for Alberta. Next to having the highway built through this province, which could be done more quickly and at less cost, it it is preferable that the Prince George route be chosen because it would be a relatively simple matter to tap the road with lateral highways from this province, thus making it a north and south artery for travel and trade from the whole prairie country as well as from central and northern British Columbia.

While the main purpose is to open a way for tourist traffic from the United States to Alaska, the usefulness of the road in facilitating other traffic is not to be overlooked. As the United States commissioners prefer the Prince George route, there is no apparent reason why British Columbia or federal interests should not agree. If—as appears to be the case—there is little hope of the highway being built through Alberta, this route should have also the backing of Albertans and prairie people generally.

The cost, Mr. Magnuson says, is estimated to be $25,000,000. If that is all the money involved, there is no need to ask the United States to supply the funds. Canada could easily provide the amount—and thus quiet the apprehensions of those who seem to fear that borrowing in the United States would in some way put the road out of Canadian control.

Phophecy Based on "Ifs"

Foreign Minister Arita told the Japanese parliament the Government is determined, come what may, to set up the "new order" in China. There is, he said, no desire to do away with the rights and interests of third powers in that country; which will sound strange to the hungry "nationals" of those powers inside the barbed-wire corrall at Tientsin, and equally strange to Washington. As for the war in Europe, Japan would stay out of it but would have a say in the reconstruction when peace comes.

There is no reason to doubt this definition of Japanese aims as to China, nor the declared intention to let Hitler fight his own battle. Making the necessary discount because Arita statements in the past have failed to line up with facts, Japan now can hardly do other than indicated. To back the army out of China would likely produce a revolution; and the Chinese adventure is all the warlike enterprise the country can support.

The notice to the United States and Britain that they must accept the "new order" is plain enough; but suppose they don't accept it, but only stand pat and let events work themselves out for a season? Japan is bleeding to death economically. The war cost is consuming the income of its people and loading them with unpayable debt. Their foreign trade, which supported their industries, has shrivelled to a sorry remnant.

If the war lords could not beat China into submission while the western peoples were buying their manufactured goods and supplying them with war materials in return, how are they going to do it under the "new order" of general boycott of Japanese goods that is surely and swiftly coming into existence in western markets?

Arita speaks confidently, much more confidently than the circumstances warrant.

Ex-Premier Hertzog has succeeded in uniting the opposition groups in parliament on the proposition that South Africa should break away from the British Empire and proclaim itself a republic. This was the next logical step following the resolution he moved that the Union make a separate peace with Germany. The resolution was defeated by a vote of 81 to 59. His new proposition is likely to fare still worse with the public, excepting those who would rather be ruled by Hitler than rule themselves. The others know that that is the choice, however it may be camouflaged.

There is no area in the north west better able to promote dairy farming than the region about Edmonton, and yet this branch of activity has never had the attention paid to it, that it deserves . Here is a field that will well repay pioneer effort.

Forty Years Ago

London: The Boer war has entered into a phase in which the pitched battles cover so wide an area that it is hard to say which side is gaining ground at the moment. The British government keeps insisting that when the peace arrives, it will be used by Britain to give South Africa, in defeat, a larger measure of freedom than she would be able to secure for herself even in victory.

Thirty Years Ago

Washington: It is reported from New York that a new attempt is to be made to break the hold of Tammany Hall in that city and state. A group of business and professional men have banded themselves into a new organization to arouse public opposition to the methods being followed by Tammany in electing the men it supports.

Twenty Years Ago

Ottawa: A conference of eastern industrialists say Canada must have more protective duties levied if the country is to make progress economically, and in particular, build up a balanced economy. This has aroused a sharp protest from western members of parliament, who say the lower tariff needs of the prairies are being obscured by this agitation for higher tariffs.

The Edmonton Industrial Association and the Chamber of Commerce are taking steps to prevent the buildings on the old penitentiary property being pulled down, as at present planned at Ottawa.

Winnipeg: The unemployment conference of representatives of western cities and provinces decided to send a delegation to Ottawa to ask federal action to solve unemployment difficulties.

Calgary: Provincial police raided the offices of stock broker firm and seized documents relating to business in Alberta. The stock exchange was closed for the day.

Victoria: Dr. Borden, member of the legislature, stated in a speech that Soviet money has been keeping Doukhobor unrest alive in British Columbia.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Do you recall the convictions in New York a year ago of several underlings in the German espionage system? The story then unfolded was done into a first rate movie picture "Confessions of a Nazi Spy". Though the underlings were duly convicted and sentenced, the leaders of the spy ring all managed to get away without passports on German liners.

LINKS UP WITH NAZI SPY TRIALS

One of the men most wanted was Karl Schlueter, Cloaking his activities under the lowly role of a steward on the German liner Europa. Schlueter was clothed with powers by the Nazi leaders that made him political boss of the ship.

In the partial revelation of his activities that came out in the trials in November, 1938, it was revealed that Herr Schlueter had plans to counterfeit White House stationery, forge President Roosevelt's name to a letter to be presented at a Navy yard, ordering plans of new aircraft carriers then building to be entrusted to the bearer for the President's perusal. An important visitor at homes of prominent New York Nazi and German-American Bund leaders, Schlueter was regarded as a man of high standing in the Nazi spy service. Had he been arrested and convicted, little doubt but he would have received the full twenty years imprisonment sentence that is provided for theft of military secrets, even though he got away only with a few codes and registers of minor value.

Little did the American authorities suspect when the 513 members of the scuttled German liner Columbus reached New York on an American warship that Herr Karl Schleuter was among them. For nearly a month he mingled freely and unsuspected with the other detained members of the crew at

HERR SCHLEUTER IN THE TOILS

Ellis Island. Then on the eve of their departure to San Francisco to find their way across the Pacific as best they could, Karl Schlueter was arrested by Federal agents. Perhaps his identity had been known and the authorities had preferred to let him feel a false sense of security. At any rate, Karl Schlueter is now in the toils. The pitcher that goes often to the well gets broken at last.

Presumably still carrying on espionage work, he had been masking his work by shipping as a steward on German liners in the South American trade. He was on the liner Columbus when her captain ordered her scuttled and fired when pursued by a British warship. There'll be some interesting evidence when Herr Schlueter goes on trial to answer the indictment already returned against him.

Small wonder that British warship commanders are alert to examine all German passengers travelling on neutral craft on the high seas.

Much more bizarre are the alleged plans of the eighteen arrested Christian Fronters accused of a plot to overthrow the Government of United States. More than half of them are members of the National Guard, and with them were taken eighteen cans of cordite, sixteen rifles, 4,250 rounds of ammunition, fifteen partially completed bombs made from beer cans and soup cans and numerous revolvers and automatics, swords, bayonets, clubs and fuse. The "Christian" in the name of the organization seemingly has nothing to do with the teachings of the Sermon on the Mount. It is to differentiate it from the race of which Jesus was a member, and which the Christian Front is organized to persecute. Not love but hate is its spirit; not peace but bloodshed and tyranny its object.

We'll have to bring the old hymn up to date:

Onward Christian Fronters,
Marching as to war;
Bombers in the front rank,
Gun-men in the rear.

Unmolested, under the guise of a Christian organization, the criminal activities of the Christian Front were only brought to light after the European war started, and search was made in the country of our near neighbor for espionage activities. War brings queer sorts of noisome creatures to light, like turning over a huge stone under which loathsome insects have been breeding in security.

A BLACKSMITH'S PROGRESS

Our Canadian village blacksmith is expert at shoeing horses, mending wagon tires and repairing farm machinery. But when I suggested to him the making of strap hinges, finished as fish tails, for our log cabin he was puzzled. But we worked together and he succeeded.

Then he was ready to attempt wrought-iron lamp brackets for the walls, the base fashioned in the semblance of fish. He succeeded in this; and now he is asking me to give him a chance to try something even more artistic! He has caught a glimpse of the possibilities of iron-working beyond mere blacksmithing.

Into every task, and into every life, it is possible to put artistry. There are myriads of cooks who are just cooks; there are relatively few who make an art of preparing food. There are countless kindly-hearted folk; but only a few of them have studied courtesy as an art.

Dear Father, whose plans for us all exceed our ambitions for ourselves, help us ever to live up to the limit of our possibilities, for Thy glory. Amen.

Current Comment

A "National Government"

Keeping our eyes fixed steadily on the main objective for Canada in 1940: the winning of the war, it is important to examine carefully what underlies the proposal first made by Dr. Manion for "a national government, including the best brains in the country," and now taken up by an increasing number of voices in Ontario. What does the proposition mean? What does in involve? Would it help to win the war?

It will be noted first of all that Dr. Manion made his proposal, not in the House of Commons during the brief and fiery session, but next day from his office in Ottawa after Mr. King had announced his intention of going to the country with his present administration. The Prime Minister and all his colleagues, the only effective leaders of the Liberal party in Canada, were all included in the sweeping denunciation of Dr. Manion on the floor of the House. It is therefore obvious that the Conservative leader proposes to include none of them in the "national government" he proposes to form, even if some of them were prepared to desert Mr. King at this moment, a contingency of the most unlikely kind.

But it must be taken for granted that Dr. Manion does not, in making his proposal, intend to form a purely Conservative government. That would not be, in any sense of the word, a "national government." Therefore there must be some other persons in the country whom he hopes to reach and bring in to his proposed war administration. These may be men outside the present scope of Canadian public life. But it is not likely that any very large number of these unknown persons could be effectively given cabinet rank. One or two might be brought in, as was done in Great Britain during the last war. But even in Britain, successive war cabinets did not include many men who had not been previously in public life.

This narrows the field of potential cabinet material to non-Conservatives in public life who are not tied by one loyalty or another to the Liberal party. And this, in turn, practically reduces the men available to whatever C.C.F.ers Dr. Manion can attract, whatever Social Crediters or New Democrats, and the three provincial governments who are not more or less tied to the federal Liberal party: the governments of Mr. Mitchell Hepburn, Mr. John Bracken and Mr. William Aberhart.

It will seem to most people highly unlikely that Dr. Manion is going to coalesce with either the C.C.F., the Social Crediters or with Mr. Herridge of the New Democracy, who denounced the Conservative party platform at the convention which elected Dr. Manion as leader. This leaves as potential cabinet members the provincial Premiers of Mr. Bracken and Mr. Hepburn, and of these two the invitation is very obviously being extended to the latter. What Dr. Manion's statement therefore means is that he wants to form a government composed of the followers of Premier Mitchell Mr. Hepburn to whom he is now opening the door. The strategy behind the move is to split beyond all hope a sweep in that province. Whether Mr. Hepburn will avail himself of the invitation nobody yet knows.

We doubt, however, whether under any circumstances such a government, if and when it was formed, could be properly called a "national government." That term can be justly applied only when the major political parties in the country are behind it. A Manion-Hepburn combination would face opposition and hostility of the most powerful kind in which the natural division that lies between the Liberal and Conservative parties would be accentuated by the feud between the main body of the Liberal party and whatever rump had followed Mr. Hepburn into the so-called national ranks.

It is not unfair therefore to say that Dr. Manion's suggestion for a "national government" is designed rather to ensure the victory of the Conservative party at the polls than to lay the foundation for that greater unity which the average man assumes is implied in the idea of a national union for victory. This may be perfectly legitimate campaign tactics on Dr. Manion's part, but it would be disastrous to place the issues before the people in such a way as to make them think that his success at the polls would be proof of this "national government" slogan, dissolve party lines for the duration of the war. It would, in fact, operate in exactly the opposite way.

A real national government can only be formed in this country after prolonged, careful and friendly consultation between the leaders of the main political groupings. It was only after negotiations of this kind that the Union Government of 1917 was formed; yet it failed, as we all know, to bring into its ranks a complete representation of all shades of political opinion. It proved to be, at that juncture, a powerful weapon for the maintenance of our war policy at high pitch. But it owed its existence to the fact that there had appeared in Canada a parting of the ways. A violent and disrupting issue had cut across the nation. No one can say with any semblance of accuracy that any such issue faces us today. The reason for a national government has not arisen. The plea for a "national government" on the terms proposed by Dr. Manion is camouflage designed to cover other aims.—Winnipeg Free Press.

On This Date

By FRED WILLIAMS

Seventy years ago today (Feb. 2, 1870) what looked like a successful termination of the negotiations for the admission of Prince Edward Island into the Dominion came to a collapse. Although the island was the cradle of Confederation, in September, 1864, it did not enter the Dominion until 1873. The cause was the difficulty in ending vicious absentee land ownership system with which the people had been cursed.

In 1870 the lands were divided by ballot among persons who had claims upon the British government for military and other service. This brought the system of absentee landlordism, which for more than a century halted development and produced almost as helpless a tenantry as in the south of Ireland.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. McKENNEY, America's Card Authority

This country has contributed very few things to the deck of cards, but one strictly American feature is the joker. It is unheard of in French decks, and very few English packs carry it.

Whether the joker was first invented as a whim of a card printer or to meet the rules of a new game requiring an extra card is not definitely known. In any event, it is the highest card in the Victorian game of euchre. Some authorities believe that the joker was originated as a name plate or trade mark of the printer, while others contend that it was inserted in a pack to replace a card which might be lost or torn.

In today's hand South bid one no trump because he had to take some action after North's free spade bid; North called off the no trump with two clubs because his bid was mainly distributional and he could not help in his hand. South bid three clubs as his hand is better than a "mimmy" and North may have underbid in raising only to two clubs, in fear that South's club bid was made on a short suit. North jumped to five clubs because after this rebid, his distributional values indicated a fair play for the contract.

West held the first trick and shifted to a trump. Dummy won and led a small spade, East put up the king and returned a heart, which dummy was forced to trump. A spade was led to the queen and South cashed the ace of clubs. When trumps failed to break declarer had to pin his faith on the spade break. A small trump to the jack took East's last trump, and South made three discards on the spades.

Great Britain Believes New Fighting Planes Will Repel Any Enemy Craft

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The men who direct Britain's air defence have rushed preparations to meet any German attack they believe may develop with improving weather and longer days of spring.

Discussing British aerial progress, an information aviation source said yesterday the new Defiant fighter could fly alongside a formation of enemy bombers and "rake them with gunfire from nose to tail."

"There is evidence the Germans are pressing construction of fast, long-range bombers," this source said.

"A new medium-sized high-speed bomber now being produced in Germany is likely to be used in considerable numbers in any full scale air attacks the Nazis may attempt."

The new German plane is described as the JU 88, a twin-motored Junkers built primarily for speed performance at high altitudes. It carries a crew of three or four and three guns—one in the nose and one above and one below the fuselage.

This craft, however, has no gun in the tail, which Britons regard as a vital weakness in their Hurricanes, which have twice the 1,300-mile range of the JU 88 but possibly less speed than its maximum of 315 m.p.h., which British authorities concede is "good for a bomber."

To combat the new German bomber the Royal Air Force has its new two-seater fighter, the Defiant equipped with a power-driven turret overcoming the inability of fixed-gun fighters like the "Spitfire" to make a broadside attack. The Defiant is a single-motored low-wing all-metal monoplane.

Since the start of the war many British bombers have been replaced by more powerful types and others have been re-equipped with features suggested by experience in actual combat.

Further purchases of advanced types of United States aircraft, augmenting Allied output, are likely, it was authoritatively stated.

A Digest of Addresses at the Annual General Meeting of the

CANADA PERMANENT Mortgage Corporation

CANADA'S ECONOMIC STRENGTH — "It is a striking tribute to the inherent strength of our national economy that despite the disturbing conditions which prevailed throughout the year the results in Canadian business were substantially better than in 1938."

MORTGAGE PAYMENTS GREATLY IMPROVED — "Mortgage collections have improved; current interest payments were well maintained; substantial reductions were made in arrears of interest; such accounts were restored; and repayments on mortgage principal were far in excess of 1938, or any recent year."

DEPOSITS HIGHEST IN CORPORATION'S HISTORY — "Our deposits now stand at the highest figure in the history of the Corporation, while our investments in liquid securities and cash on hand, represent a total of more than 68% of our obligations in this respect. Incidentally, we have no obligations in foreign currencies other than Sterling."

NEW HOUSING LOAN REGULATIONS — "Under an Order-in-Council passed on the 5th of December last, no applications will be received after the first of January for loans on houses containing more than one self-contained dwelling, or exceeding $4,000 in amount. The Order-in-Council was, no doubt, dictated by the necessities of war. However that may be, it is in strict accord with what was considered to be the purpose and intention of the Act when it was passed, namely, to assist the man of moderate income to become the owner of his own home, rather than to build up a mortgage lending business as an adjunct and accessory to the Department of Finance."

A FAR CRY FROM 1914 — "It is a far cry from the Canada of 1914 to the Canada of today. The intervening years have brought an economic development which is almost bewildering. In the year 1914 our wheat crop was 161 million bushels. In 1939 it was 480 million bushels. In 1914 our mineral production was approximately 129 million dollars. In 1939 it was in round figures 480 million dollars. The annual value of our manufactured products has increased by about 200% and our newsprint production by over 250%. Our Hydro horsepower development is more than four times as great as it was then, while our bank deposits have increased by 150%, and the assets of our Life Insurance Companies which, after all, are but an accumulation of individual savings, have advanced from some 280 million dollars to a figure almost 8 times that amount."

CENTRAL MORTGAGE BANK ACT IN ABEYANCE — "The Government meantime feels that it is not in the public interest for the Central Mortgage Bank to commence active operations at the present time."

BETTER ABLE TO WITHSTAND SHOCKS OF WAR — "It must be obvious from these illustrations that in both the nature and extent of our economic development we are infinitely better able than we were in 1914 to absorb the shocks of war, and to meet the demands which may be made upon us, however prolonged and exacting they may be."

FARMERS' CREDITORS ARRANGEMENT ACT — "During the year the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act came to an end, save in regard to existing applications in the provinces except Alberta and Saskatchewan, where it is still in effect. This Act belongs to that type of legislation which can only be excused as an emergency measure, to meet an emergency situation, and should be repealed as soon as the emergency is past."

ROYAL VISIT DEMONSTRATED CANADIAN UNITY — "No one who witnessed the scenes which attended the progress of the King and Queen through our country in the early summer is likely to forget them. It was a revelation to the world—perhaps even to ourselves—of the depth and sincerity of the loyalty and devotion of the Canadian people to those principles for which Britain and the Empire stand, and which Their Majesties so finely represent."

SASKATCHEWAN RENEWS HOPE — "During the years of drought Saskatchewan suffered at least equally with the neighboring provinces—perhaps even more—because to a greater extent than either of them it depends on wheat. Today its picture is changed. The production of wheat sprang from 132 million bushels in 1938 to 239 million bushels in 1939, and the value of all field crops from $61,850,000 in 1937 to $107,250,000 in 1938 and $163,150,000 in 1939 . . . The result is renewed hope and confidence in the future."

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, Feb. 2—Whatever may be the outcome of this strange war, one thing is happening which may lead to good and lasting results. The French people have fallen in love with Les Anglais, among whom they count the Scots, Irish and Welsh.

Perhaps that expression is too strong and has certain exceptions in certain places, but, generally speaking, there is far more cordiality and warmth of friendship between the French civilian people and the British troops than existed in the last war.

I have ample evidence thereof from battalion officers and men and from my own observation. A few days ago two Britons got into trouble and were arrested by the military police. The country of a certain town and a number of civilians came around in deputation, protesting that they were not at all at fault and should not be punished having been led into trouble by bad characters in that district.

GREAT KINDNESS

In many billets the officers and men are being treated with the greatest kindness by French families, among whom they have made friends, and already have become a part of the family. I know one middle-aged French woman with a big heart, who has had top pay for British soldiers, whom she called her chers enfants. They wanted to pay for their hot baths, but she scouted the idea and said: "You have come to fight for France. Why should you pay for my coal?"

This is very different to our experience in the last war. She made them cakes for their tea, and made them feel at home in her drawing-room. And she wept bitterly when "her children," as she called them, had to leave for another part of France.

In an old inn, famous in the last war, I spoke to another French woman, who looked a little sad. "I feel very unhappy," she told me, "because I have lost some good friends. Welsh Guards had the mess here, and everyone of them treated me as though I were his mother, with respect and affection. Now they have gone away, and it is lonely without them. They were very gay, charming and courteous to an old woman."

One night in a restaurant, crowded with officers, some bottles of wine mysteriously appeared on the table.

"Who ordered that?" I asked.

"It is from a French gentleman who wishes to remain anonymous," the waiter said. "He asks you to accept this wine with his homage to the British officers."

FRIENDSHIP GAINED

The men of a battalion, returning to billets they had previously occupied, were greeted by the whole village, including the mayor, with affectionate enthusiasm. They had won the hearts of the village folk.

British troops made Christmas presents for French children with whose families they had stayed. And on every hand one sees signs that the British army really has gained the friendship of the French people.

One Frenchman's theory about this new cordiality, which he admitted was not prevalent in the last war, is that the respective characters have changed in twenty-five years. People are more intelligent, and better educated, and there are not so many illiterates, and the old prejudices between the French and the English have died out. "Perhaps," he said, 'also your men have changed a little. Many of them speak some French. We understand each other better. Entente cordial is all right, but there is no more phrase for politics!' use. It is warmed by real friendship and affection."

Delegates From Many City And District Churches To Attend United Church W. M. S. Meeting To Be Held In Metropolitan Church Wednesday

Dickensians To Fete Memory Of Writer

To honor the immortal memory of Charles Dickens, famed English novelist on the 128th anniversary of his birth, members of the Edmonton branch of the Dickens Fellowship will entertain at a birthday dinner in the Corona hotel on the evening of Tuesday, February 6. In celebrating the occasion, the Edmonton branch is joining with branches scattered throughout the world in paying homage to one of England's greatest writers.

BORN IN 1812

Born in Portsea, a suburb of Portsmouth, on February 7, 1812, Dickens wrote 15 major works, a history of England, short stories and miscellaneous sketches before his death on June 9, 1870. His name will live forever for his beloved Christmas Carol and other Christmas stories, "David Copperfield", "A Tale of Two Cities", "Pickwick Papers" and "Oliver Twist".

Mr. Hugh C. Gourlay, city librarian, will be guest speaker at the banquet here while Mr. R. Alexander, a Dickens character actor from Calgary, will entertain. Oldtime songs will be sung and a moving picture film of Dickens' characters will also be shown.

DICKENS' HOUSE IN LONDON

Special emphasis is being laid this year on the anniversary in most countries although in England plans for the festival must be curtailed due to war conditions. Dickens' House in London, former home of Charles Dickens, is barricaded with sand bags and the priceless contents of its museum buried underground until the war is over.

Mrs. John F. Holmes, secretary of the Edmonton branch of the Dickens' Fellowship, is in charge of dinner reservations.

Gordon; Mission Circle activities, Mrs. Frank Richard; mission band, Mrs. G. P. Johnston; baby band, Mrs. C. E. Seller; associate helpers, Mrs. D. Barnie; C. G. I. T., Miss Pauline McBain; literature, Mrs. J. H. Tanton; press, Mrs. W. A. Lang; supply, Mrs. P. L. Evans, and community friendship, Mrs. A. S. Elliott.

At the conclusion of the morning sessions, luncheon will be served by members of the W.A. of Metropolitan Church. Recommencing at two o'clock, the sessions will open with an "In Memoriam" service conducted by Mrs. A. D. Miller.

Secretaries who will give their reports during the afternoon include Mrs. James McArthur, temperance; Mrs. J. H. Tanton, literature; Mrs. A. M. Shaw, the Missionary Monthly publication, and Mrs. F. C. Casselman on Peace work.

Eaton Company, Western Limited, entertained in the lounge room of the building. Hostesses for the evening were Miss Edith Power and Miss Dorothy Samis.

CALGARY GIRL AMONG NURSES TO FINLAND

LONDON, Feb. 2—Twenty members of the first aid nursing yeomanry, including Lillian Krans of Calgary, left London yesterday on the first stage of a journey to Finland. With them were eight army white ambulances, some of which were a gift of the Canadian Red Cross.

The unit is under the command of Mary Runciman, a relative of the statesman, Viscount Runciman.

Edmonton Ski club members have arranged an impromptu party for Saturday evening, and will entertain at an attractive affair at their cabin on Connors Hill. Guests are asked to wear their old clothes. Miss Doris Grierson, social convener, is being assisted with arrangements by Miss Betty Dallamore, Miss Ethel McIntyre, Miss Thelma Miller and Mrs. Rolf Vollan.

Minute Make-Ups

2-2

Copy the habits of ladies of long ago when you are apt to have a breath tinged by eating strongly flavored foods, and carry a pretty box with breath pellets or sugar rock crystals dipped in perfume. One of these will freshen your mouth and help do away with unpleasant breath.

A quiet, sure manner, and a controlled tone, work magic. Couple this with a smile and lots of sympathy and I think you have a recipe worth its weight in gold.

Son Of Canadian Press Head Marries Brenda Newbold Of Old Vic Theatre, In London

LONDON, Feb. 2—Robertson Davies, Canadian actor, director and author, and Brenda Newbold, stage manager of the Old Vic theatre, were married today in an informal ceremony at Chelsea Old Church, with Rev. R. E. Sadleir officiating.

Mr. Davies, 26-year-old son of Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard and the Peterborough Examiner, and president of The Canadian Press, and Mrs. Davies, met Miss Newbold three years ago when both started working at the Old Vic. Miss Newbold, who is 23, was born in Melbourne, Australia.

The wedding was attended by many theatrical friends and the bride was given away by Tyrone Guthrie, director of the Old Vic. As all of Mr. Davies' most intimate friends are on army duty, the couple decided not to have attendants.

WEDDING MUSIC

Because the bridegroom considers wedding music to be unusually gloomy, he selected pieces from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," which were particularly appropriate in view of the many guests who are members of the Sadler's Wells Opera Company which is associated with the Old Vic. An exception took place at Barrie House, Lancaster Gate.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies will spend their honeymoon at Rupert Davies' Welsh seat, "Fronfraith Hall," Abermule, Montgomeryshire, and later will make a trip to Canada.

RIGHT TREATMENT LIGHTENS DARK ROOM

To make a naturally dark room appear brighter, have the walls and woodwork painted a light color that will reflect whatever sunshine enters. If the room is furnished in dark woods, have at least two pieces bleached or painted to match the walls. Use sheer yellow or cream curtains at the windows and the very lightest shade of yellow obtainable, right down to the top during the daytime. If draperies are used, hang them to the very outside of the window frame to keep them pushed well back, to let in all the light possible. Light, soft colors for rugs and upholsteries will be the most attractive.

Raising A Family

Of these four suggestions, which do you think is the most potent in getting obedience and good behavior:

A: Nagging?
B: Shouting?
C: Coaxing?
D: Keeping the voice and manner calm and firm?

I had an uncle whose wisdom and prophesies now come back to me with clarity and force over the years. He was one of those people born 30 years too soon, as the saying goes.

One quiet summer night he and I were out on the porch, alone in that country place with the stars. The rhythm of the crickets, tree frogs and other squeedillums of a summer night did what they always do, unleashed confidences. He was a proud and silent man, a man who seldom acknowledged mistakes.

O. R. Barton

"Olive," he said suddenly, knocking his pipe against the rail, "I could have gone 10 times as far if I hadn't been for my voice."

"Your voice?"

"Yes, you see, the minute I tried to impress a point on my employees, I talked too loud and too much. The minute I got excited or upset, up went my pitch about an octave. I lost control to a certain extent. Once I lost the biggest order of my whole experience because I used too much pressure."

But enough of Uncle John here. His words are a message, however, whenever I get a bit impressive.

Over the years I hear his advice: "When you want to make a point, or get your way, my dear, remember to keep your voice low. There is your best friend and your best weapon.

The idea that deep breathing will increase the amount of oxygen one takes into his system has been exploded by Prof. Jay B. Nash, of New York University, in his book, "Teachable Moments, a New Approach to Health." He says: "Deep breathing comes automatically with increased muscular activity. Any one who attempts deep breathing exercises when there is no particular need for them subjects himself to dizziness and to actual fainting." Those of us who have tried to start a fire by blowing on it know that this is quite true.

Sunday without its "special good" dessert is as irregular as Monday would be without its washing. Let's keep up the honorable tradition with these new "big" desserts, using packaged crackers as one of the ingredients.

GRAHAM CREAM LAYER CAKE

One-half cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, separated; 2-3 cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, 25 graham crackers, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup chopped pecans, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups whipping cream.

Cream butter and sugar together. Add beaten egg yolks, milk, salt and beat well. Crush crackers fine and mix with baking powder. Add to first mixture. Add ½ cup chopped pecans, vanilla, and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into two greased 8-inch layer cake tins and bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Cool. Fill and top cake with whipped, sweetened and vanilla flavored cream. Sprinkle with chopped pecans.

STEAMED FIG PUDDING

One-half cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, well beaten; ½ cup milk, 1 package rusks, finely crushed; 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups chopped figs, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange peel.

Cream the shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add egg and milk. Mix rusks, baking powder and salt thoroughly; add figs and mix well. Combine fig mixture, lemon juice and grated orange peel with first mixture. Pour into 1½ quart greased pudding mold. Cover tightly and steam for 2½ hours. Serve with foamy sauce.

FOAMY SAUCE
(Makes 2 cups)

One-half cup butter, 1½ cups powdered sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, 1 egg, white, stiffly beaten.

Cream butter and sugar until light and smooth. Add flavoring. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Half grapefruit with fresh strawberries, dry cereal, broiled salt mackerel, creamed potatoes, cornbread, grape jelly, coffee, milk.

Dinner: Tomato juice, friesasee of chicken, dumplings, steamed brown rice, spinach timbales, lettuce and tangerine salad, graham cream layer cake, coffee, milk.

Supper: Cream of chicken soup in cups, cheese crackers, vegetable salad, orange layer cake, tea, milk.

What To Do

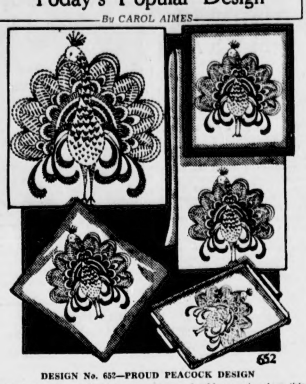

I wish you would tell me if I handled this situation correctly? The other day I went to a restaurant for lunch and met a friend coming out. We had not met for some time and I was glad to see him and asked him to come back for a talk while I ate my lunch. I ordered the waitress put down the check he insisted on paying it, which I refused. His argument was that before we were old friends I should have permitted him to pay for my lunch. MISS F. S.

Answer—I can understand the man offering to pay for your lunch, and I can understand your refusing. Because, if you had imagined he would feel obligated to pay for your lunch, you would not have invited him to come back for a chat. Women are showing more and more independence in such occasions every day, and men and women lunch with each other in a completely sort of way and neither of them feels particularly obligated to the other. However, when you refused to let him act as host, you might have said, "Not today, but I'll be glad to have lunch with you some other day." This would have given him an opportunity to have you for his guest at some other time convenient to you both.

Dorothy Dix Says:

It would do a lot to promote domestic happiness and diecourage divorce if men would only forget the Rules for the Proper Conduct of Wives that Adam formulated and would bring their theories on the subject up to date.

It is a curious thing that no matter how modernistic the average man is, nor how advanced his opinions are on other matters, he ideas of how to deal with wives still have whiskers on them. They are cave-man stuff. He is still puttering around in the Dark Ages so far as women are concerned.

It is because husbands are victims of the ancient superstition that a man should be the head of a house that starts more family feuds and keeps more wives sore and peevish than any one thing. Because that wasn't what the intelligent, educated woman who had held down a good business job, expected of marriage. She thought it would be a fifty-fifty affair.

The irony of the situation is that, with the exception of a few domestic tyrants, the man who fights so bitterly with his wife for the empty honor of being the head of the house doesn't care a rap about it. He just insists on it because somehow he thinks he should be It, and, in reality, he is glad enough for his wife to take the responsibility of deciding household problems.

It is the same theory that it is right and proper for a wife to show her subservience to her husband that makes so many men refuse to give their wives an allowance and make them come like beggars to them for every penny and that caused the financial plank to be just as rickety a one in the home as it is in the government.

Yet if you would ask one of these men if he thought he saved anything by doing out expense money in nickels and dimes instead of giving it to his wife in a lump sum he would say "no." If you would ask him if his wife wasn't honest enough to be trusted with a few dollars he would say: "Certainly she is." If you would ask him if she wasn't a thrifty spender he won't say: "She can get twice as much out of a dollar as I can."

If you would ask him, then, why he didn't let his wife be the family cashier and save her the humiliation of being a mendicant, all that he could say would be: "Pa never gave Ma any allowance."

Every man knows that the woman who belongs to club and gets places and does things and comes home chuck full of bright and spicy conversation makes the good fireside companion. And yet, for all of that, men still hold up the gadder wife to scorn and glorify the kitchen slave. All of which suggests that if husbands would only catch up with their wives they wouldn't be so many disgruntled ladies.

DOROTHY DIX.

Don't Try To Be Your Own Doctor

By ALICIA HART

Nobody enjoys having a hypochondriac around the house. The constant complainer of minor ailments is a bore indeed. And even doctors themselves never seem overly anxious to have patients who go running to them every time a little pain or ache or small black and blue spot develops.

However, the woman who gets to the other extreme, brags that she never has and never will see a doctor offers more cause for concern than the constant complainer. There are times to be brave-about-it-all and times when one certainly should see a physician. The beauty-minded woman should be ever so conscious of this fact.

For instance, it's a mistake for anyone to try to cure some serious form of skin disease by herself or with the aid of creams or other preparations someone recommended. The thing to do about any serious complexion disorder is to see the family doctor and let him recommend a skin specialist who, in turn, will recommend preparations if any are needed. Self-diagnosis is a silly, often dangerous, thing.

LET PHYSICIAN DO DIAGNOSING

If you are constantly tired, from the time you get up in the morning until you go to bed at night, or if, day after day, you get too weary long before you know you should, see the doctor, of course. If, in spite of your best efforts at self-control, you are constantly nervous and jittery by all means get practical medical advice.

Don't be a Spartan about a pain which reoccurs in the same place all too often. Don't insist upon figuring out for yourself a diet to cure chronic indigestion. See the doctor and let him do it. You wouldn't refuse to go to the dentist if you had a toothache, would you? Then be as sensible about seeing a doctor regarding a physical ailment.

Finally, keep in mind that it's as ridiculous to ask a cosmetic expert for medical advice as it would be to ask your doctor what shade of rouge to wear this season.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Feb. 2—A downward slant in the golds was the only definite trend on the Toronto stock exchange today, the other groups churning around irreularly in narrow range. Sales, down in early dealings picked up slightly during the afternoon.

Going contrary to the general trend in the golds were Siscoe, which gained 5 cents, Kerr Addison and Wood Cadillac. Naybob was most active of the losers in a fractional drop.

Home Oil was an active early leader of the western oils, but after selling up to $2.85 for a 5-cent advance, slipped to $2.81 in late dealings. Calgary & Edmonton was lwore with Brown Oil and Okalta showing small advances.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—Selected stocks were bid up moderately in today's market but many issues suffered from neglect.

A few aircrafts, steels and specialties developed timid followings for gains of fractions to around 2 points.

Top marks were cut or eradicated. Cluett Peabody recorded a new 1939-40 peak. Up the greater part of the day were National Steel, Bethlehem, International Paper & Power, Dresser Mfg., Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Canada Dry and Montgomery Ward. Continental Motors was the most active gainer. Hesitant were Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Penney and American Can.

Broomhall

The Argentine government issued a crop report yesterday to the effect that "January rains had benefitted the growing corn and that conditions were now showing above average, especially in Cordoba, San Luis and Entre Rio." This new corn is quoted 36 cents c.i.f. Antwerp, but sales have already been made at 87c due to the ability of obtaining cheap freight but some authorities say this corn would not reach its destination before June and would have to carry a heavy war risk insurance besides. American corn for prompt shipment is priced about $1.02 c.i.f. Antwerp for arrival this month and is of excellent quality and very dry. The Winnipeg rye market broke yesterday and closed at a loss of 2 to 2½c.

SPEEDY PLANE IS DEVELOPED BY U. S. ARMY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The United States army took the wraps off one of its newest air weapons yesterday, a cannon-carrying pursuit plane designed to make 400 miles an hour, but delayed giving it complete tests.

The plane, known as the "Aircobra" and nicknamed the "Flying Bullet," is one of the fastest owned by the air corps. In addition to its six-mile-a-minute speed, it is capable of attaining altitudes of 36,000 feet and has a cruising range of more than 500 miles with a full load.

It is designed to carry four machine guns and a 37-millimetre cannon firing high explosive shells, all operated automatically by the press of a button in the pilot's cockpit. The 1,000 horsepower engine is mounted behind the cockpit.

Mrs. Welles, 23, divorced the 24-year-old producer whose "Men From Mars" broadcast startled the nation in 1938, at a brief, closed-door hearing. The statutory charge was "extreme mental cruelty," but Mrs. Welles said the word "cruel" didn't really fit Welles.

Clamor In Eire For Reprieves For Two Facing Death

British United Press

DUBLIN, Feb. 2.—A clamor spread through Eire today for reprieves for Peter Barnes and James Richards, who are under death sentence at Birmingham, England, for a bombing at Coventry in which five persons were killed and which was attributed to the Irish Republican Army.

A mass meeting last night attended by members of parliament, college professors, business men and representatives of Gaelic organizations sent cables to President Roosevelt and prominent Irish-Americans asking them to intercede with Great Britain.

100 Persons Are Frozen To Death Shanghai Streets

SHANGHAI, Feb. 2.—The frozen bodies of approximately 100 persons, including 80 infants, were picked up in the streets today as bitter cold brought suffering to thousands of Chinese in Shanghai.

Hot rice was distributed by trucks operated by the Salvation army.

Reports from outside the city indicated that hundreds perished as a 24-hour snowstorm swept the lower Yangtse valley.

MORTGAGE FIRM HEAD REPORTS FINE PROGRESS

TORONTO, Feb. 2—At the annual meeting of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation held at the Head Office here yesterday, F. Gordon Osler, president reported a successful year despite the disturbances caused by the outbreak of war.

Reviewing the course of the year, President Osler stated that the net profits of the Corporation were $684,000, an increase over the preceding year. Substantial reductions were made, he said, in the mortgage principal and interest accounts. Deposits were at the highest figure in the history of the Corporation while investments in liquid securities and cash on hand represented a total of more than 65% of the Corporation's obligations in this respect.

IMPROVED MORTGAGE SITUATION

John A. Rowland, K.C., first vice-president and joint general manager, also referred to the improved position of Canadian business.

"Mortgage collections were greatly improved; current interest payments were well maintained; substantial reductions were made in arrears of interest; inactive accounts were restored, and repayments on mortgage principal were far in excess of 1938, or any recent year," he said. "Moreover, the retirement, or renewal at lower rates, of debentures which had been issued five or six years ago in a period of high coupon rates, had brought the cost of money more directly into line with prevailing mortgage interest rates, and the whole mortgage situation was much more satisfactory than at the beginning of the year."

Mr. Rowland pointed out that owing to the disturbed conditions abroad, there was some reduction in the amount of new lending and property sales, and a natural reluctance on the part of individuals to build or purchase homes in a time of business uncertainty. The improved situation in the West, however, was cause for satisfaction.

MacKinnon Coming

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Liberal M.P. for West Edmonton and Alberta's representative in the cabinet, will likely be in Edmonton on February 10, W. C. Barrie, Liberal organizer for the province, said Friday. Other Liberal officials said a nominating convention would be held soon after his arrival to put Mr. MacKinnon in the field again for the constituency, it being regarded as a foregone conclusion that he will be tendered the nomination once again.

THUGS SLUG VICTIM AND STEAL CASH

Teamster Is Attacked In Home By Young Desperadoes—$65 Taken

Police were searching Friday for two young thugs who walked into the home of George H. Lane, teamster, of 9606 100A street, late Thursday evening, slugged him into unconsciousness with a blunt instrument, searched his room, and then made their escape with $65.

According to police the two young men walked into Lane's home under the pretext of giving him an order to deliver coal. When Lane sat down at a table to write out the order one of them slugged him over the head, knocking him unconscious. He was found in that condition an hour later—about 11 p.m.—by his wife when she returned to the house after visiting friends.

Lane was unable to give police a very complete description of the two thugs. One was about five feet eight inches in height, would weigh about 160 pounds, was about 25 years of age and wore a grey cap and overcoat. The other was a little shorter, according to Lane.

Highway Bridge East Of Jasper Nearly Complete

Progress is being made so steadily in the construction of a $50,000 highway traffic bridge over the Athabasca river, about three miles east of Jasper, that it should be completed in about six weeks, A. A. McKinnon, general superintendent of the Alberta division, C.N.R., said Friday.

Mr. McKinnon has just returned from inspecting the bridge site, being accompanied by T. W. White, district engineer.

The bridge crosses the river at a point between Maligne canyon and Lake Edith. New roadway will skirt the eastern tip of Lake Edith to join the Maligne road to Jasper.

"Work will be completed well ahead of the tourist season traffic to the park and should simplify handling the increased travel that is expected due to the new Jasper-Banff highway," Mr. McKinnon said.

Hyperopia Troubles the Eyesight of Many

By Jackson Bros., Optometrist.

One of the complaints most frequently encountered in the examination of a pair of eyes is far sight—or hyperopia as it is technically known. Hyperopia is caused by the rays of light entering the eye and focusing behind the retina, instead of on it. The retina is the receiving screen of the eye. The improper focus causes a diffusion circle of light instead of a point.

People who are hyperopes in a lesser degree can correct this condition by using their power of accommodation to give distinctness of vision at distance; however, the terrible amount of energy used daily to correct this condition is exacting in its toll.

People doing a lot of close work gradually develop a train of symptoms which eventually causes great distress. First of all, perhaps in the afternoon or evening after an unusually hard day's work, the muscles of accommodation suddenly become unequal to the strain; relaxes and things go black before the eyes.

Unless this condition is corrected, and it can be corrected with glasses, these attacks begin to come earlier and earlier in the day, to last longer and come more often. Later there appears a kind of haze, due to poor focusing, over every near object looked at. Associated with this is a pain in the eyes and frontal headaches, often lasting for hours after the overwork has ceased, and sometimes becoming so continuous and severe as to lead to the suspicion of organic disease.

The treatment for hyperopia consists of complete rest for the eyes when they have become irritable and painful, and certainly in the prescribing of corrective glasses.

Jackson Bros., have the most exacting instruments known to science for measuring the refractive condition of the eyes. Call in and have our registered Optometrist give your eyes a thorough eyesight examination.

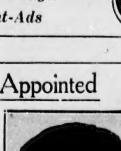

If you need glasses you can have the use of them while paying for them, by using our well established easy payment plan, in weekly or monthly payments.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Do you think that, as a New York writer puts it, "simple courtesy injected into our everyday human relations would do more to extend the spirit of goodwill than all other efforts combined?"

THE ANSWERS

LORNE BRUCE, Canadian Press: You bet.

JACK CLARK, C.P.R. messenger service: I agree. It does not cost any more to extend a little courtesy and those who do so usually find that it pays dividends. Extending courtesy may sometimes take a little effort but it is always appreciated and makes for a better feeling all the way round.

* * *

JUDY COLQUHOUN, beautician: Extension of courtesy hurts none and helps a lot. Courtesy begets kindness and kindness awakens goodwill and confidence and ripens into understanding. Development of this quality is something that should be encouraged.

* * *

ERNESTIN FARMER, clerk: In our work we find that courtesy is a valuable asset. From our standpoint it helps a great deal in fostering the customers' good will and when we receive courteous treatment from the customers we fully appreciate it.

NO NEED FOR INCREASE IN WHEAT CROP

Agricultural Committee Finds Expansion Of Acreage Unnecessary

Expansion of acreage sown to wheat is unnecessary at the present time, according to a recommendation of the Alberta Agricultural Production Committee, formulated at a legislative buildings meeting, according to an announcement Friday by Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture.

The committee found that "there appears to be at present no justifiable grounds for an increase of acreage of wheat in Alberta. The existing exportable surplus now in Canada and the recent development of rust and drought resistant varieties of cereals and the economics affected in production, make an expansion of acreage unnecessary."

This was the second meeting of the committee. In addition to the agricultural production committee, members of two other committees, the swine production and crop production, formed by the government to assist in the allied war effort, were present.

WAR ORDERS

J. R. Sweeney, deputy minister of agriculture and chairman of the agricultural production committee, in outlining developments to date, said the war situation might become more acute at any time, necessitating placing of definite orders in this country for other food products.

He said that about 65 meetings, mainly for discussion of swine production problems already had been planned in the province.

Mr. Mullen emphasized necessity of maintaining quality of products "which under forced conditions might be allowed to decline." He referred to responsibilities facing the nation and declared the various committees in Alberta had a serious task in guiding production campaigns of this province.

8,000,000 ACRES

In deciding that no increased wheat acreage was advisable at present, the committee recalled that last year more than 8,000,000 acres were sown to wheat in Alberta while the year before, more than 7,000,000 acres had been sown.

Among basic principles of crop production stressed were the correlation of livestock and grain production to the greatest possible extent in the interests of lowering transportation costs of feed. It was suggested that use of legumes, grass crops and commercial fertilizers in the grey wooded soils section of the province be encouraged for effective control of a permanent agriculture. Soil improvement within these areas is necessary for establishing both grain and livestock farming.

Reports were received from the swine production committee.

ARCTIC FOLK SEE MOVIES FIRST TIME

Motion picture films are being shown at Aklavik this winter, in a hall owned by H. E. Peffer, Arctic trader, who has arrived in Edmonton from Aklavik aboard a Mackenzie Air Service plane piloted by Archie McMullen. Mr. Peffer said he planned to obtain some new films for showing at Aklavik where, prior to Christmas-time, more than 75 per cent of the residents had never seen a talking or silent picture. He is going to construct a regular theatre building and give periodical showings in the spring, he added.

Spring's Around The Corner

Johnny Groundhog didn't see his shadow Friday, so if that meteorological legend holds true spring is no more than a stone's throw away. This fur-bearing prognosticator contends that if he sees his shadow February 2 there'll be six more weeks of winter weather, but if the shadow's missing spring is almost upon us. No, you can't fool a groundhog!

Johnny Groundhog Fails See Shadow Early Today So Spring Coming Soon

Old Johnny Groundhog popped out of his burrow early this morning, bunny-nosed around a bit, testing the morning air, then he popped right—no—darned if he didn't stay out!

Yes, today is Groundhog Day, and it is indeed a jittery day for all weather prophets as they must watch the groundhog to see if spring is on its way.

But it appears that spring is just around the corner as the sky today was overcast and the groundhog could not by any stretch of his imagination see his shadow. So, according to the rules of his league, he stays out and spring comes.

If it had been sunny and he had cast a shadow, spring would not be here for another six weeks as he would have dug right into his den again.

But, groundhog or no groundhog, the forecast for the next day or so, given out by the Dominion weather office, is "about same temperatures with probable snow." The barometer this morning was at 27.92 decreasing.

Highest temperature yesterday was 18 above at 4 p.m., lowest today eight above, at 8 a.m., rising to 10 above at 9 a.m.

Yesterday one-tenth of an inch of snow fell.

Coldest spot anywhere in the north today was Fort Vermilion. Yes, the same Fort Vermilion that holds the all-time record for Alberta of 78 below. However, it was just five below there today.

Confidence Man Has More Relatives Than Arkansas' Bob Burns

City police were looking Friday for a man who apparently has more relatives than Bob Burns, and who makes a nice living off them.

After checking up on a couple of complaints police found that the man, a smooth-talking stoutish gentleman of about 40, goes up to a likely looking person and introduces himself as their Uncle Louis from Louisville, or their Cousin Charles from Charleston, or any other name that seems appropriate.

"You don't remember me? Well, of course I left home before your mother was very old and perhaps she didn't tell you about me. Anyway I'm certainly glad to see you looking so well. I thought you'd be older than you are, but then it's so long since I've been in touch with the other members of the family. Been so busy with my business in Montreal, you know."

CHEQUES BOUNCE

Well after that he gets himself invited to stay for a couple of days. And then he gets some help cashing a cheque. And then he disappears. And then the cheques come back. And then the coppers start looking for them. It's an old game, but much simpler than selling gold bricks or the Brooklyn Bridge.

Through The Mill

"Too much truth is worse than too much wine," wrote Tizz-Toc. And in police court Friday morning a young motorist who was too blandly truthful walked into the witness stand and quietly and politely talked himself out of the "not guilty" into the "guilty" class.

* * *

The young gentleman—he was no lag—was driving his truck, see. And as he approached the intersection he slowed down, and then drove out and then, smacko! Another car ran into him. But the cops charged him with dangerous driving.

* * *

The crown prosecutor read over the evidence and remarked to the cadi: "I think he should be dismissed, but we'd better hear it." And this is the story told by the crown witness: "He was driving slowly and then he seemed to shoot out in front of me." The coppers said the young gentleman left no skidmarks.

And then our hero hops into the witness box. Everything was going swell until he said: "Well, I couldn't see very well because of the frost on the windshield." The cadi, when he heard this, sat up quickly and said: "What was that?" The accused repeated it.

* * *

"Hummm," said the cadi. "I don't think you were keeping a proper lookout. Fined $10 and costs." And on another charge of failing to have a driver's license he was socked another $2 and costs. "Honesty pays, alright, but sometimes it pays the other fellow," as Tain-Too often remarked in Tizzy.

City Has a Jack Miner: He Needs Aid For Ducks

W. J. Lacey, 10811 75 street, is becoming the Jack Miner of Edmonton, feeding a flock of wild ducks that spends the winter here on an open stretch of the North Saskatchewan river near the Highlands golf course.

But Mr. Lacey says that he now needs a bit of help. He has spent all he can on the ducks—there are about 74 this winter, as nearly as he can count them—and he wonders if some kind-hearted citizen would chip in to help him buy some grain.

"The ducks just swarm around my feet now when I feed them," he told The Bulletin. "They have been here for three winters now and they know me.

"I have some screenings down at my house but screenings are not very good for the birds. They need good grain. I have spent all the money I can and I wonder if I couldn't get a bit of help."

Mr. Lacey is a returned soldier who still suffers from disabilities received in 38 months of infantry warfare in France in the war of 1914-18. He lives on a small disability pension which he has been splitting with the ducks.

ALBERTA COAL SHIPPED EAST ON INCREASE

Higher Cost U.S., British Fuel Aids This Province

Alberta coal shipments to Eastern Canada have risen substantially since war began, as a direct result of increased costs of British and American coal due to higher freight rates and foreign exchange, J. McGregor Stewart K.C., of Halifax and Ottawa, coal administrator for the wartime prices and trade board, said here Friday.

Mr. Stewart said it was probable that these increases would continue to take place. "Up to the end of the year," he said, "the increase in Alberta's shipments to the east had reached hundreds of thousands of tons.

SUBVENTION

"The railway subvention—$2.50 maximum—helped the competition against imported coal. The problem now is whether the federal government will deem it wise to assist that subvention further in order to reduce export of Canadian exchange."

Mr. Stewart added it was possible coal consumers in the eastern provinces "may decide it is wiser as a wartime measure to use Alberta coal, even at equal costs, in preference to imported products, to save exchange."

Mr. Stewart said there would be "no profiteering in coal during the war if it can be avoided."

"Should it become necessary to compensate wage-earners for a possible increase in their living costs," he continued, "arrangements may be made so that annual incomes are raised by the provision of more work, rather than by any undue revision in wage scales which have applied in peace time."

CAST OF CHARACTERS

MARIE LA PORTE, model in exclusive Bond Street shoppe, lives in barge.

DAN DONOVAN, playboy son of a rich Irishman, in love with Marie.

TOMMY RYAN, leader of the truckers fighting Marie's father.

LYNDA MARTIN, society debutante, wants to marry Dan.

BAPTISTE LA PORTE, Marie's father, owner of a fleet of barges.

Yesterday: Dan visits with Marie's parents aboard the barge. When they catch sight of Tommy Ryan skulking outside Dan goes out to fight. Marie wants to stop the fight but Bat prevents her. Finally Bat tries to stop the fight. Both Dan and Tommy are battered. A policeman arrives, hauls both of them to jail.

CHAPTER IX

WHEN Mike Donovan heard his son was in jail, he dropped into the nearest chair.

"It's all right," he told Ling. "Just give me a moment to get hold of myself."

The Chinese servant scurried off for a glass of brandy. Mike thought aloud as he sipped it. "Doesn't matter what the lad's in for, we've got to get him out quickly and quietly." He handed the empty glass to Ling. "It isn't the first time I've faced trouble. Call me a taxi."

Ling suggested having the Donovan chauffeur bring the car but Mike shook his head.

"No. I don't want anyone to know about this. I'm not even goin' to call me lawyer till I learn the trouble."

The phone rang as he stepped toward the door.

"For you, sir," Ling said. "Missy Martin."

"Hello, Lynda." Mike tried to be cheerful. "Dan's all right. He's just been at a friend's house. He'll call you when he gets home. Goodbye."

Directing the taxi driver to drop him on the corner of Pearl and Wall streets, he settled back in the cab. The man might be a local fellow. He wasn't going to have him gossiping around the neighborhood about taking old Donovan to a police station.

It was after 9 when the cab deposited him a block from his destination. Mike knew the district better than any other section of New York. His office was only a square from the First Precinct police station. His ships were berthed at South street just a few blocks above the barge terminal. His nostrils tingled pleasantly at the pungent fragrance of spice and coffee as he passed the lonely warehouses, filled with goods brought in on his ships. Yes, in spite of the silent streets, he was on familiar ground.

A sharp wind cut his face. He jammed his old-fashioned square black derby tight on his head. Rain again tomorrow, he thought. He wondered where the Katherine was now. He had told the captain to bring the Donovan houseboat up by easy stages to New York. Maybe Katie was seasick.

As his wife came to his mind he pictured her anguish if she knew their boy was in jail. His own misery increased as the green lights of the First Precinct brought him sharply back to reality. Fiercely, he shoved the police station door open and marched up to the high desk.

"I'd like to see my boy."

The police sergeant looked up. "And who might you be?" he inquired mildly.

"Michael Donovan. Here's my card."

Respectfully, the police officer reached for the square of white paper. The name of Donovan was powerful along the waterfront. Mike's money and influence were well known. At sound of Mike's voice detectives and policemen turned inquisitive heads. Slowly the sergeant ran his finger through the day book.

"Daniel Donnovan and Tommy Ryan picked up for disturbing the peace at 8 p.m. on Pier 6 by Patrolman Jeremiah McGuire."

Closing the book, he looked down at Mike through steel-rimmed spectacles. "Your boy's gone to night court, Mr. Donovan. Put into plain English, he was pinched for fightin' on the barge pier. If ye hustle, ye might get up in time to hear him state his case. The address is 314 West 54th street."

"Who won that fight?"

"Neither side." The sergeant's gray eyes twinkled. "Patrolman McGuire interfered."

Mike's face relaxed. He was glad it was nothing more serious than a street fight. The Lord knew he'd been in enough of them himself when he was a young fellow. But how in God's name did Dan happen to get mixed up in a waterfront fight? Here he scowled again.

"I don't know what they was fightin' about, but Dan should have laid the blighter low first. Well, good day to you, Sergeant, and the next time we meet I hope it won't be because my son is in jail."

At the night court Mike was told Dan and Tommy Ryan said a bunch of drunks had arrived in the patrol wagon from the Old Slip station house half an hour earlier. The court attendant jerked a thumb toward the wire netting which enclosed the benches where the prisoners sat. "I guess your boy's there now."

Mike stared at the rag, tag, and bobtail assortment of human beings. Fine company for his son to be in! His relief was rapidly turning into anger. Sitting in a front row bench he beat a furious tattoo on the floor with his cane. Dan, his head in his hands, had not seen him. At the friendly advice of the court attendant, Mike did not call his lawyer.

"Better wait. The judge may dismiss the case. Neither party looks as if they'd like to continue the fight," the man advised. "If you get a lawyer, you're liable to make a mountain out of a molehill."

The attendant ran an eye down the complaints the policeman had handed in. "You don't happen to be THE Mike Donovan, do you?"

Mike nodded, gruffly pleased. "Then lie low. The reporters will play this up if they find out're here. Quiet, the judge is calling for them now." He moved toward the bar.

Mike shifted restlessly. "Well, I'd have tagged meself a liar," he mumbled to himself, "if I said the day would ever come when I didn't know me own son. But I say it now."

He stared as Dan was brought before the judge, left eye closed, a gash on his forehead, another on his cheek, and a large lump on his chin. The blood had clotted and dried. His white shirt was torn and dirty his tie gone and a cat sleeve had been ripped off. Unable to stand it, Mike jumped up. "Dannie!"

"Oh, Dad." Dan cried as his father hurried forward. "What a mess I've got you into! But I'm not through with this sap yet." He clenched his fists.

All eyes in the crowded court were on the pair. A couple of district reporters lounging near the clerk's desk glanced at them speculatively.

"Might be something to this," suggested one, shuffling forward to the little group in front of the judge's desk.

"I'm afraid you're not as much of a fighter as your old man was, Dannie." Mike shook his head and stared at Tommy's apparently undamaged face. "This boy knows how to take care of himself."

The clerk rapped for order. The judge listened, first to the account of Jerry McGuire, the policeman, then to the story of the two boys. "Do either of you want to prefer charges?"

They shook their heads.

"Case dismissed. Next."

While the judge was hearing the story of the fight, Marie La Porte had slipped into the courtroom. At the words, "Case dismissed," she started forward. Just as she was about to take Dan's arm, his father spoke.

"Well, my boy, we'll let the unpleasant past bury itself and turn our faces toward a happier future." He chuckled. "After that wire of yours, congratulations are in order."

Marie's face paled. She had a premonition of the words to follow. Each one etched itself separately on her mind.

"Your mother joins me. She thinks you've picked a fine girl." Mike's tones grew affectionate. "I've already congratulated Lynda. We're celebratin' at a little party tomorrow night."

"But, Dad—" Dan's tones were desperate.

Marie left the courtroom before they saw her.

"He was only stringing me along all the time," she told herself unhappily.

"Going my way?"

She started at the sound of a man's voice behind her. It was Tommy Ryan.

"Yes," she said.

Poland Now Preparing Efficient Fighting Force To Battle With Allies

The British United Press manager in Paris has surveyed Polish troops being trained in France for service with the Allied armies. The following dispatch describes the methods employed and gives an indication of the attitude of the Polish forces in exile.—EDITOR.

By RALPH HEINZEN
British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

AT THE POLISH ARMY CAMP, In France, Feb. 2.—Poland's new army marches and drills with the precision of French soldiers today as the process of creating an effective fighting force out of the remnants of the world's once fifth ranking army enters an advanced stage.

I watched the division in drill manoeuvres under the command of General Wladislas Sikorski. They wore the cut-off horizon-blue uniforms of the French army. Trained under a program laid out by Gen. Maurice Gamelin, French chief of staff, they appeared to be clearly stamped with a French print.

The army is completely different from all previous Polish armies. The troops act as Gamelin likes to have an army unit act—with skill and precision.

Active commander of the Polish first division is General Maczek, who won one of the few Polish victories in 1939 over the Germans. Under General Maczek is another commander of the September campaign, Colonel Szyszkobogusz.

A new Polish air force also is being created and in England, a few units of the Polish navy have entered into Britain's naval service.

The recruits were under a severe training program. I saw no recreation centres, no canteens and no organized centres of amusement. After wandering through the whole camp I found only two radio sets. The Polish soldiers are paid the same wage as French soldiers—about one and a quarter cents daily.

I talked to one Polish soldier who spoke five languages. He was once a Polish consul in England. He said that "a new sentiment fills our hearts. It will help us to galvanize Nationalism and give courage to those Poles at home who are suffering at the hands of the German and Russian invaders. We will help them as soon as the new Polish army is ready to wage war against their jailers on another front. We will fight gloriously so that when war ends we can enter Poland with heads high."

The First Division already formed will report for duty in the front lines around the early part of summer.

REDS PROTEST MORAL BAN ON U.S. SUPPLIES

Russian Ambassador Has Launched Action In Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Constantine A. Oumansky, Russian ambassador to the United States, was reported to have complained to State Secretary Cordell Hull yesterday against a "moral embargo" on American plant shipments to Russia and against a speech in which a high government official branded Soviet troops as "serfs".

Under the moral embargo, the state department discourages American manufacturers from selling Russia airplanes, airplane parts, and plants and plans for making airplane gasoline. The department contends United States should refrain from granting aeronautical assistance to nations which bomb civilian populations.

The speech which Russia resents was made by Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, before the New York State Bankers' Association on Jan. 15. Speaking on the topic "Lessons From Finland," he said:

"Again, the world beholds the proof of the age-old axiom that a free man is worth at least a dozen serfs."

Johnson added that Finland was fighting against "forces of bigotry and oppression" and that politics and purges had stymied the Russian officers in command while blind submission dominated in the ranks.

Besides these two points, the Hull-Oumansky discussion was reported to have touched upon the bad feeling in general between the United States and Russia. Since the Russian invasion of Finland, relations between the two countries had deteriorated rapidly.

The United States had already granted one $10,000,000 loan to Finland, and proposals for further assistance are pending.

Hull would not say whether it had been a satisfactory conversation.

Radio Sets Presented to Canuck Army

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ALDERSHOT, Eng., Feb. 2.—Four developments made this day an exciting one for the Canadian troops encamped here.

First, a heavy shipment of mail arrived from home, then it was pay day; week-end leaves were restored after temporary suspension due to the severity of the weather, and, finally, a generous gift provided the camp with radio entertainment.

Garfield Weston, Canadian manufacturer, who now is a member of the London House of Commons, made a special visit to the divisional headquarters to present 500 radios to officers, non-commissioned officers and men.

In presenting the first set to Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, general officer commanding the Canadian Active Service Force, Weston, a former Torontonian, expressed hope the gift would bring cheer to "this splendid body of men." He announced that additional sets would be forthcoming with the arrival of further Canadian forces on this side.

General Secretary Fellowship Group Will Lecture Here

With an Edmonton visit part of an itinerary which is taking him across Canada and the States in his work as general secretary of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, C. Stacey Woods, B.A., B.Th., of Toronto, will visit this city over the week-end.

During his week-end here he will be the special speaker at a student conference with sessions both Saturday and Sunday. The Saturday afternoon and evening sessions will be held at the First Baptist church, a student service Sunday afternoon at the Normal school, a late afternoon gathering for Varsity students and the final service—a student service in First Baptist church Sunday evening. Mr. Woods then leaves for the coast.

LUTHERANS TO AID PARISHES WITH $27,000

Mission Board Ends Three-Day Session—Pastors Needed

Allotment of $27,000 to 34 subsidized parishes of the Lutheran mission board of the Alberta and British Columbia district (Missouri synod) was approved during the closing session of a three-day annual meeting here Thursday.

Rev. A. H. Schwermann, principal of Concordia college, was chairman during all sessions of the meeting. W. C. Eifert of Leduc is president of the mission board.

Proposal of expansion of pastoral facilities in South Edmonton and in Victoria, B.C., is under consideration by the board. While no definite decision was reached, it was felt that the needs of the congregations in those districts were too great to be handled by the small number of pastors and plans to expedite matters will be made by the board.

Edmonton ministers who attended, in addition to the chairman were: A. J. Mueller, C. L. Kliewer, V. L. Meyer and J. H. Herreilers. From outside points the following ministers: A. H. Haake, New Westminster; C. Janzow, Vernon; E. A. Bieberdorff, Trail; W. A. Raedeke, Calgary; W. C. Eifert, Leduc; G. H. Riedeke, Camrose; E. Hberhardt, Stony Plain; W. W. Eifert, Bruderheim, and E. Wildgrube, Wembley. R. J. Lumley, a Calgary layman, also attended.

Blames Old Sol

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 2 — "The dangerous influence" of sunbathing on academics is deplored by a Cape Town headmaster whose school is near the coast. He was distressed" to see "boys purposely basking in the sun.

It has been estimated that the heat of combustion of a gallon of gasoline is equivalent to more than 90,000,000 foot-pounds of work, which, at 100 per cent efficiency would drive a 3,000-pound motor vehicle six miles.

CONFIDENCE IN WEST REPORTS FORD OFFICIAL

R. M. Sale, Windsor, Sales Manager, Meets Dealers Here

"There is a new spirit of confidence abroad in Western Canada. We see evidence of this everywhere and particularly where our business brings us into contact with the farmers," stated R. M. Sale of Windsor, Ont., sales manager for the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, Friday. Mr. Sale arrived in the city Thursday for a conference with Ford dealers in Edmonton and district.

Mr. Sale met representatives and dealers of the organization from the city and 16 surrounding districts Friday morning, when new lines and models being introduced by the Ford company during 1940 were outlined. A luncheon meeting was scheduled at the Macdonald hotel for all dealers and representatives. Friday noon, and a second conference was set for the afternoon.

BUSINESS DOUBLED

"Business throughout Canada is excellent at the present time," stated the Ford executive, who revealed that in the prairie provinces business had been more than doubled over the 1938 figures for the six-month period ending December 31.

"Western Canada with its usual optimism is again in the van of this national recovery and continues to be the brightest spot in the whole picture. Our shipments of cars and trucks to the western provinces show a substantial increase over last year and orders are continuing to come in in good volume," said Mr. Sale.

The Ford company has just launched an entirely new type of farm tractor on the Canadian market and Mr. Sale states that this product is being received with a remarkable display of public enthusiasm.

The tractor is the new lightweight Ford machine which is equipped with a unique hydraulic mechanism used to control the Ferguson wheel-less implements. It handles two 14-inch ploughs in average soil.

PARIS, Feb. 2—The council-general of the department of the Seine, governing body for the city of Paris, today asked the government to follow the British example and issue food ration cards for Paris and its suburbs as soon as possible. The council particularly asked for rationing of sugar, coffee, oil and soap.

The newspaper Humanite-gisant said there was growing popular demand for rationing in order to prevent price increases and ensure equitable distribution.

France has three meatless days a week and on the other four days restaurants are forbidden to serve more than one meat dish per person. Other foods are not rationed.

SHORE SPARKS AMERKS IN TRIUMPH

Looking Them Over

Canton Scot

Mike vs. Nate

The Roundup

TODAY the entries for the annual bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association are beginning to pour in on Secretary Jim McCool in an encouraging flood. Some 30 were on hand last night and each mail was bringing more today.

Most of the early entries were from veterans who have proved their ability in many bonspiels here. Herbert of Hardisty, Slater of Chauvin, Charlie Purves, from Consolidated, families from Willow, Mackie of Stettler, Loades of Viking, Dr. Frank Law of Tofield and Roper of Rumsey are among the better known ones who are definitely in.

Plenty of real color will be provided by a new skip—Mah Bow of Ponoka. Bow is Chinese, a native of Canton, and a prince of sportsmen. If there is any sport program underway around Ponoka, be it ping-pong or baseball, Mah Bow can be relied on to be one of the most substantial backers of it.

Mah Bow has been bitten by every sport bug in this neck of the woods. He's an ardent shooter, he's been curling daily every winter for years, he shoots a good game of golf—and he knows his poker.

Bow does his curling in a Scottish "rink o' shanter. If any one is foolish enough to give him an argument on his right to wear such a bonnet, that gent is in for a red face. Bow was born in a section of Canton City known as "Glass-kee" or approximately that. It is practically the same as the pronunciation most Scots give to Glasgow. Bow contends that any native of "Glass-kee" is fully entitled to wear a tam o'shanter.

While it is still a bit early to forecast what the total entry is likely to run to, prospects are good for it at least equalling the record mark of 114 rinks that competed last year. With an extra event added to the program so that every entrant is guaranteed a minimum of seven games—and a richer prize list than ever, the event is mighty attractive. Thorough headquarters will be opened in the Royal George hotel on Saturday.

Jacobs Developing Headache

MIKE JACOBS, the New York czar of the beak-busting business, has run into competition that is becoming a real headache to him. This headache is being produced by Nate Druxman, canny Seattle promoter and Eddie Marino, manager of Al Hostak.

For weeks now, Jacobs has been trying to restore his iron grip on the fight game by getting the middleweight title situation under control and to date he has made no progress at all. There are two recognized claimants to this title—Hostak, who is recognized by the National Boxing Association, and Ceferino Garcia, who is recognized by the New York and California state commissions.

Hostak is sewn up tightly by Marino and Druxman, and Jacobs can't get to first base with them on a deal for his services in New York. Then the other night Hostak lost a non-title bout to Tony Zale in Chicago. Jacobs rushed after Zale, but found that he was already under contract to Druxman to fight a return match with Hostak at Seattle.

Jacobs has contractual rights for the title services of Garcia and Henry Armstrong. However both are still in California and threatening to kick over the Jacobs traces and tangle in a title fight. Feb. 22 in Los Angeles . . . without cutting Uncle Mike in. Uncle Mike is accordingly threatening to sue them for everything they have, their tights included.

Art Kramer, producer of the sports Record program for Arena events here, is a proud citizen today. He's the daddy of a brand new, seven and a half pound baby boy. Congrats, Art!

LUSCAR TRIBE DRUBS CADOMIN JUNIORS BY 10-1

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LUSCAR, Feb. 2—Resuming the war path, Luscar Indians added more scalps and two points to their hold on top place in the Coal Branch League when they shellacked Cadomin juniors 10 to 1 here last night.

The first string, Bonner-McVey-Onychuk accounted for six goals, Protti and Dominichelli clicked for three and Kulyk took the odd one on a solo.

Said McLeod of the twin defence accounted for the juniors lone tally: The Cadominites just couldn't click with their breaks.

The second period appeared to be the main battle scene, five goals being scored and five penalties being dished out. The Indians took four of the goals and three of the penalties.

By the time the Indians get through with their Coal Branch schedule, they should be in good scoring shape to more than hold their own in the Northern Alberta intermediate playdowns, for which they are entered.

DETROIT SURE TO FEEL PINCH STATES DYKES

CHICAGO, Feb. 2—Baseball's little round man with the big cigar, Jimmy Dykes, thinks Detroit is certain to feel the pinch of Commissioner K. M. Landis' Free agency rulings within three or four years—but he also believes the Tigers may cut loose with a real pennant threat before the rookie famine sets in.

Dykes, manager of Chicago White Sox, didn't have much to say about his own club, but made it clear he doesn't agree with those who believe Detroit will need years to recover from the Landis edict which cut loose 91 players.

"Detroit will be handicapped by losing some of those kids," Dykes said, "but don't forget they've a number of good young players with the club now and that the management will be taking steps to find replacements for rookies lost.

"If the Tigers get the right breaks in two departments—in pitching and at shortstop—they may come up with a fine club next season. It might be good enough to hold together two or three more years."

FRED APOSTOLI AND BETTINA AFTER CONN SHOT

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—The second showing of one of the toughest tussles in Madison Square Garden this winter comes off tonight, only this time Fred Apostoli and Melio Bettina will be pitching for a shot at Billy Conn's light-heavyweight crown.

Apostoli, former middleweight champion from San Francisco, was awarded a close decision over the ex-light-heavyweight king a month ago after a 12-round session in which both battlers wound up staggering around from the red hot pace.

A return go was a "natural" for Promoter Mike Jacobs, this time over 15 rounds, with Conn to meet the winner, probably in March and providing he wins over Gus Lesnevich in their title tear-party in Miami February 28.

Strong defensive play held both clubs from scoring in the final stanza.

Powerful Varsity Hockey Clubs Meet Here Tonight

TONIGHT at the Varsity rink, Coach Stan Moher's powerful Golden Bears meet their toughest hurdle in the race for western intercollegiate hockey honors when they tangle with the University of Saskatchewan Huskies in the first of a two-game series. Starting time is 8:30 p.m. Saturday at 2:30 p.m the clubs play their second engagement.

The Bears, reputedly one of their greatest teams in Alberta's hockey history, will carry with them the weight of their crushing defeat of the Manitoba Bisons which in two frames totalled some 23 goals to 3. Saskatchewan on the other hand while their margin of win over the belated Bisons was a little less impressive was nevertheless impressive,

The Green and White crew from Saskatoon plan to burst the current myth of Bears supremacy. The big question at this time is can they do it. Coach Moher says "No," but the fans will be out to see a real battle that should be one of the best set witnessed in the Inter-University league.

MOUNTAIN PARK, Feb. 2.—Cadomin Clippers again invaded the Park domain and took the local Bantams 5-3 in a closely contested fixture, the outcome of which appeared in doubt to the last bell. The Lads were in front until the third frame when they came to life and rapped in three counters in quick order that upset McKinnon's shut-out applecart.

Morgan, assisted by Luchine, who got three and Nicholson scored for the Clippers.

B. Haddock from M. Haddock and McLeod who counted two and Holland soloing the other Park goal.

Leduc Defeats Stony Plain 9-3

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

STONY PLAIN, Feb. 2.—The Leduc Maple Leafs chalked up their first win of the season when they defeated the Stony Plain junior hockey team here on Tuesday, by a score of 9-3.

Stan Reynar of the visitors was high scorer with three goals and three assists, Mathers of the same team counted for three goals and one assist. W. Rayner, Durovees and Robertson scored one goal each making Leduc's total nine. L. Miller counted for two goals while Bros scored one to make Stony Plain's total three.

The game started clean until the second period when players from both sides indulged in a little fist-fighting. This was soon checked, but after that Stony Plain players seemed to have lost interest in the game and Leduc went on their scoring spree.

D. E. Moyer and E. Enders officiated during game.

Dominion Fuel Board, accompanied Mr. Stewart to Edmonton. Mr. Stewart is touring Canada to confer with coal operators and dealers, all of whom have been licensed by the Dominion as a measure of price control.
John Blue, secretary-manager of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, which has a coal committee investigating present problems facing the industry, met the two officials on a courtesy visit.

Wartime Coal Is Talked Here

Wartime conditions as they affect the Alberta coal industry were discussed Friday afternoon when C. MacGregor Stewart, K.C., of Ottawa, coal administrator to the Dominion Wartime Prices Board, met members of the provincial cabinet at the Legislative Buildings.
Opening at 3 p.m., the conference was attended by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, and Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines. Others present included W. D. Kirby, deputy minister of trade and industry and chairman of the Alberta Price Spreads Board, and F. G. Neate, technical adviser to the Dominion Board.

FUR FARMERS END CLASSES HELD IN CITY

Detailed methods of keeping fur-farm records were outlined to the fur-breeders at the concluding session of the short course at Scona Academy hall, South Side, by J. H. Montgomery, of Wetaskiwin, Thursday night. The course was given under the auspices of the provincial agricultural department and in association with the Alberta Fur Breeders' association.
W. H. Fallen, provincial fish and game commissioner, was chairman. Others assisting were Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture; A. G. Walker, president of the Fur Breeders' association; J. B. Gillies, secretary of the association, and J. R. Sweeney, deputy minister of agriculture.
Preparation and marketing of fox pelts was subject of a discussion by Colin MacDonald.
Wednesday's sessions of the short course were devoted mainly to mink while Thursday was devoted largely to fox.

$66,000 BACK PAY COLLECTED FOR EMPLOYEES

More than $66,000 in back wages has been collected by the Industrial Relations Board for workers of this province, according to Clayton Adams, chairman of the Industrial Relations Board. His statement was made in connection with a broadcast Thursday evening in which Premier Aberhart and Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, also spoke.
It was also reported that sweat shop conditions in Alberta are being eliminated through the operation of the Hours of Work Act. Mr. Adams in giving figures for collection of back wages said that the first year the board operated more than $12,000 was collected; the next year more than $32,000 was collected and in the current fiscal year to date more than $22,000 had been brought in, bringing the total to more than $66,000.
From April 1 to Dec. 31, 1939, there were 41 charges laid under the act of which there were 30 convictions. Six cases were dismissed and two settled out of court.
Inspections from April 1 to Dec. 31 resulted in 1,246 males receiving increases of $2,700 a week. In the same period 148 women workers received increases totalling $284 a week making a total of 965 workers receiving increases of $3,000 a week or $117,000 a year.

CREDIT CASE BRINGS MAN INTO COURT

Affairs of the National Credit Adjustment Bureau were aired in supreme court Friday when Philip Low, big manager, went on trial before Mr. Justice W. C. Ives on a charge of failing to account for $174.97 collected on behalf of Arthur Dupre, Wainwright merchant.
Contract entered into between the bureau and Mr. Dupre was filed as evidence. This called for payment of a $30 service fee, and also payment of 35 per cent commission on all accounts collected in cash, and 50 per cent where goods or stock was tendered in payment.
Evidence disclosed that approximately $700 had been collected by Low on Dupre's account, but only $175 had been turned over to the merchant.
Det. Cpl. J. A. Cameron testified that the accused had admitted that amounts appearing in the bureau's books had been collected.
The hearing is proceeding.

CHEQUE ARTISTS SENTENCED AFTER TWO YEARS LAPSE

The long arm of the law reached back two years to clear up a series of worthless cheque transactions with the conviction Friday of Frank Turner and Ben Bruens, Edmonton, on false pretence charges. The accused were sentenced to serve six months in Fort Saskatchewan jail by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives.
Evidence before the court was that Bruens, Turner and Orra Ray Calder, cashed four worthless cheques on a drive from Edmonton to Clyde corner. The cheques were tendered for gas and service at four filling stations. Total involved in the four cheques was $45.
Finding the accused guilty, Mr. Justice Ives said: the evidence clearly established a common purpose between the three men. Turner provided the cheques. Coombs got the artist to fill them out and Bruens drove the car on the trip.
Turner said he had undertaken the trip as he had business to do at Westlock. He cashed the first cheque because he knew the service station man at Calder. He was suspicious when asked to cash a second at St. Albert, and refused to have anything to do with cashing two others. When he learned that the cheque passed at Calder had been returned by the bank he repaid the money, he testified.

St. John Fund Campaign Meets Ready Response

Fine response is meeting the campaign to raise funds for the first aid and home nursing courses being given by the St. John Ambulance Association, it was reported Friday.
The canvas for funds has resulted in many donations and it is expected that, with the first of the month passed, the contributions will be still greater.
The association is putting on a dance in the Masonic Temple, March 18, to aid the fund.
